

HOMES HELD UP BY BOMBS FIND

Report by Mat Growcott

DEVELOPERS working on an estate in Burntwood where two unexploded bombs were discovered are awaiting the results of a specialist survey before deciding whether to resume.

A full sweep of the site off Milestone Way was carried out on Monday by a specialist investigator following the discovery of an unexploded bomb on Thursday. Disposal experts carried out a controlled explosion.

An unexploded device had been found at the end of February during development works on an adjacent industrial site on the same piece of land.

Developers Barratt Homes and Taylor Wimpey decided to halt work and in a joint statement they said they were now waiting for the recommendations of the investigator.

"Groundworks will remain suspended until we are satisfied that the site is safe, though areas of the development where housebuilding are already in progress are unaffected," the statement said. The site was once the home of ES Smith, a firm that recovered war scrap, including weaponry. The Burntwood Manor site will contain 351 homes, made up of a selection of two-bedroom apartments and two, three and four-bedroom houses. Planning documents acknowledge that the site was used for storage of weaponry.

They said: "The site was temporarily used as a store for spent munitions in the late 1940s and early 1950s."

The plans go on to say that the munitions were since cleared.

Councillor Sue Woodward said more needed to be done to find out why these armaments were not discovered in the early planning stages, but welcomed the move to halt development.

"I think this will allow the safety of local residents and people working on the site," she said. "It's a sensible decision, and it's generous on the part of the developers."

"They're not going to rush ahead and they're going to listen to local concerns."

Burntwood Town Councillor Darren Ennis said: "There are procedures in place and they've stopped digging now until experts have looked into it."

"The developers have done everything they were supposed to do."

RETAIL PLANS ON CUE AT FORMER SNOOKER HALL

An artist's impression of Fred Pritchard's latest vision for Cannock, the Newhall retail development

A FORMER Cannock snooker club could be transformed into a pub, shops and homes as part of a multi-million pound project.

The scheme will see the old Riley's Club in Newhall Street converted into retail units, a micro pub and apartments.

Developer Fred Pritchard, aged 73, unveiled the plan, which he says will regenerate the area and create dozens of jobs. He said: "I can't wait to get stuck in and get started with the regeneration of this part of Cannock."

"You have to work at these things, but it's coming together very nicely. I've got numerous applicants already interested."

The development is expected to cost somewhere between £2m to £3m and a planning application has been submitted. Up to 100 jobs are expected to be created during the construction work, and then more than 60 jobs will be available when the businesses open. Tenants signed up to the Victorian-style shop front units include a coffee shop, a book seller, weight loss and holistic medicines, a beauty therapist and a hairdressers.

The now empty building was originally a Victorian meeting hall, and has since been a supermarket and Dunelm before Rileys.

Mr Pritchard and his wife Sarah lodged a planning application after the purchase of the building was finalised. The couple operates under the company name Anglesey Real Estate.

CONVERSION

Extra parking for hospital over budget

PLANS to provide more parking for patients and visitors at Cannock Chase Hospital have already gone over budget.

A total of £300,000 had been allocated to convert the 200-space Beecroft Road car park from council staff parking to pay and display for the public.

The plans were originally to effectively swap car parks with the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust. But, now the RWT has pulled out, the council has been left to expand the Civic Centre car park to accommodate both.

This means the original £300,000 scheme will now cost £450,000.

COLLISION

Police appeal after car hits lamppost

A BUSY Cannock road was closed for more than three hours when a car crashed into a lamppost.

Staffordshire Police was called to the A34 at Pottal Pool at 9.40am on Sunday. The 61-year-old Ford Focus driver had minor head injuries, but did not require hospital treatment. Police want to trace a Skoda driver, who is said to have caused the Focus to swerve as it drove towards him.

Witnesses are asked to call the police on 101.

REVIEW

Use or lose plea on shopmobility

CANNOCK and Rugeley's Shopmobility Scheme is under review following a drop in usage figures.

The Shopmobility Scheme provides mobility equipment such as wheelchairs and motorised scooters to hire and use in Cannock and Rugeley town centres.

Councillor Diane Todd, town centre regeneration leader, said: "Unfortunately, there has been a drop in the number using the scheme and unless usage picks up it will not be cost effective for the council to continue with this service."

£26k to help victims of domestic abuse

Dickie James

WOMEN in Staffordshire who have suffered domestic abuse and violence will benefit from a £26,000 grant from the county's Police & Crime Commissioner.

Matthew Ellis agreed to release the funds following the launch of a Staffordshire Women's Aid refuge in Stafford. The funding will help provide self-contained accommodation for up to 12 families needing emergency support.

The refuge, which includes a playroom and outdoor play area, will also have extra bed spaces so the women can be accommodated alongside their children.

Mr Ellis said: "Domestic abuse has a devastating impact on victims and can affect the whole of their lives.

"This development will provide accommodation and support for victims of domestic abuse when they need it most.

"This is an unusual situation and the funding shortfall is something I wanted to assist with," Mr Ellis added.

Councillor Jeremy Pert, cabinet member for communities at Stafford Borough Council, said: "We know that two women are killed every week as a result of domestic violence and these refuges are vital in helping prevent those deaths." Dickie James, chief executive of Staffordshire Women's Aid, said: "The PCC has worked in partnership with Staffordshire Women's Aid in other innovative ways including the Domestic Abuse Champions initiative.

"This has enabled us to deliver training and guidance to employers and businesses across Staffordshire so that employees who are victims can seek support in their workplace.

"This kind of initiative, enables us to work in partnership not only in meeting the needs of victims, but in helping prevent escalation and reduce risk."

Midlands Engine idea 'just wishful thinking'

STAFFORDSHIRE County Council is looking to reap the benefits of the 'Midlands Engine', with hopes it can help improve the county's economic situation.

The council hopes the Midlands Engine, as it was branded by the Government, will be able to compete with the Northern Powerhouse to receive similar attention, funding and freedom.

But the whole project has been slammed as 'wishful thinking' by Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson.

He said: "A lot of this is wishful thinking. It will take a long long time to happen if it all. If it does happen Staffordshire County Council won't be doing much as they're virtually bankrupt. We have heard it all before but the county council isn't in a condition to help. If it does happen it will be because of the metropolitan areas.

"That's not to say I don't think it will be great if it does happen I'm just sceptical."

Councillor Adamson's council faces a multi-million pound deficit and the first council tax rise in a number of years after cuts in funding from the county council and central government.

Develop

A report prepared by the county council's director for economy, infrastructure and skills for a cabinet meeting said: "The Midlands Engine can receive the same attention, monies and freedoms from central government as the Northern Powerhouse.

"During 2015, the 11 Local Enterprise Partnerships (LEPs) operating across the Midlands, with the support of government, and along with local authorities, universities and business, have come together to develop the Midlands Engine.

"This complements the Northern Powerhouse concept, first introduced by George Osborne in June 2014, in relation to both improving connectivity and, therefore, productivity among key northern cities, but also creating an identifiable 'brand' to attract international investment.

"The idea of the Northern Powerhouse quickly captured the imagination of Whitehall and media and has already brought additional government investment.

"The Midlands Engine can have the same potential," the report added.

Tolkien's life on Chase explored

Tony Harrison recreates the Great War period on Cannock Chase, where JRR Tolkien trained as an army officer

JRR Tolkien's links with Staffordshire are being explored in a new exhibition.

The man behind much-loved classics The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings lived with his wife in Great Haywood in 1916 during the First World War. He was also trained at army camps on Cannock Chase between 1915 and 1918.

Curated by The Haywood Society, the exhibition at the Museum of Cannock Chase will celebrate the influence of Staffordshire on his early writings and the development of his vision of Middle-earth.

The society organised the event after receiving £9,900 from the Heritage Lottery Fund's 'First World War: Then and Now' programme for the exhibition.

Museum manager Susan Dalloe said staff were 'extremely excited' to be showcasing the exhibition.

"It is funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund and we are the first site to launch for the exhibition," she added "It is also the first time there has been a full-scale exhibition about Tolkien's life in Staffordshire and all the inspiration he took from the county.

"The reception has been really really good. We have got a comments book in the gallery which is all positive and well over 50 people attended the launch."

After their wedding in March 1916, Tolkien's wife came to live in Great Haywood so that she could be close to him.

The exhibition runs to April 24.

Fabricant wades into row over benefits

MICHAEL Fabricant has hit out at people who 'are taking the British taxpayer for a ride' by claiming disability benefits when they are capable of working.

The Lichfield MP said changes to the way disability benefits are assessed announced in the Budget were necessary to 'ensure that benefits are targeted fairly'.

It comes after Labour accused the Government of funding tax cuts for the rich on the backs of the poor and disabled. The changes to Personal Independence Payments (PIP) will see around 640,000 people lose out in a bid to raise £4.3bn by 2020.

Mr Fabricant said it was 'time for a reality check' for people criticising the Government for cutting disability benefits. "This cannot be true," he said.

"No-one currently on disability benefits will have the amount of money they receive changed. And if after 2017 someone were unfortunately to begin to suffer from a severe disability, they will receive the same benefits and also not be affected by these changes.

"It is really as straightforward as that. But I know people who are living with cancer, multiple sclerosis and other diseases who want to work to keep busy, are working, and are happy to do so. Despite their problems, they lead full and productive lives."

From 2017 anyone who becomes disabled will be assessed by an independent medical team. If they are deemed to be capable of work they will receive benefits equivalent to Job Seekers Allowance, a figure less than full disability benefit.

Claimants total shows increase DRAMATIC recent falls in jobless totals across Staffordshire appear to have stalled after hitting historic lows in recent months.

County-wide, the number of people claiming unemployment benefits, such as Jobseeker's Allowance, in February crept up by 35 to 5,050 compared with the previous month, according to new figures from the Office for National Statistics.

In Cannock Chase the count was up by 10 to 755 while in South Staffordshire it rose by 35 to 725.

But in Lichfield it fell by 45 to 395 and in Stafford it was down by 10 to 605.

Across the West Midlands region, which includes Staffordshire, unemployment fell by 3,000 to 150,000 in the three months to January.

Funding is available to run events at festival

FUNDING is up for grabs for people and groups to run activities at this year's eagerly anticipated Burntwood Wakes Festival.

The annual event, which is 151-years-old, is 'coming home' this year and will be held at Burntwood Leisure Centre after more than a decade at the town's rugby club.

Burntwood Town Council is back at the helm for the July 23 extravaganza and has welcomed applications for funding.

Council spokesman Jayne Minor said: "The successful bidders will enter into a service level agreement with Burntwood Town Council. You may apply as a consortium - a group of organisations."

The running of the event was handed to four community groups last year in something of an experiment. On the one hand it saw popular new additions like the Push Kart Derby which will be returning again this year the week before on July 16 at Sankey's Corner, but some people thought they have missed the historic Wakes festival because it was centred around one particular weekend.

The town council has stated that returning the event to one main day at the leisure centre - formerly the town baths - is what people have been requesting for years.

The Wakes festival has been rained off three out of four years in recent times at Burntwood Rugby Club.

Applicants should email admin1@burntwood-tc.gov.uk to request funding.

Three women in car park assault

POLICE are investigating an assault involving three women on a car park.

The incident at Mill Green Nature Reserve, off Lichfield Road, Cannock, was reported to police following an altercation between people known to each other. It involved a 41-year-old Cannock woman, a woman from Heath Hayes, aged 28, and a woman in her 70s from Norton Canes.

The 41-year-old woman suffered minor injuries in the incident which happened at 11.30am on February 25.

A police spokesman said: "A red Vauxhall Corsa was also present on the car park during the incident and police are appealing for the driver of that car to come forward." Call Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 274 of 25 February.

Top 10 keyboard star in concert at hall

DirkJan Ranzijn - warm stage presence

DUTCH organ and keyboard star DirkJan Ranzijn is in concert at the Burntwood Memorial Institute Hall today.

The show at the venue in Rugeley Road, Burntwood, has been organised by the Burntwood Music For All group, who say they are delighted to welcome the entertainer.

A regular visitor here during his UK tours, Ranzijn has recently become something of a celebrity in Holland through his Saturday night appearances on the Jopie Parlevliet Show, regarded by many as the Dutch Dame Edna Everage. Aside from this, Ranzijn is a first-class musician and entertainer, playing the very latest German-built Bohm multi-keyboard instrument.

He is regarded as a one-man orchestra, and his typical shows include music from the likes of Andre Rieu, Frank Sinatra, Abba, Queen and Les Miserables as well as much, much more.

"His warm stage presence, wit and joie de vivre see him whip his audiences up into a frenzy and it is not difficult to understand why he nearly always receives a spontaneous standing ovation," a spokesman for Burntwood Music For All said.

"He recently had a track in the Danish Top 10, which again is quite an achievement in this day and age for a non-vocal artiste."

The concert starts at 7.30pm. Tickets are £6.50 and there is ample free parking, a licensed bar and interval refreshments.

More details about the show can be obtained from CMP Promotions Limited on 01530 274270 or at www.midlandsmusicforall.co.uk

Region's shops closing down at slower rate

THE rate at which big-name shops across the West Midlands region close down slowed last year, according to research carried out for PricewaterhouseCoopers.

Throughout the region, there was a net fall of 19 to 5,038 with 445 openings and 464 closures.

The Local Data Company said it was a drop of 88 per cent compared with 2014 when 524 outlets closed against 371 openings - a net reduction of 153 shops.

Figures for town centres in Staffordshire, the Black Country and Worcestershire include: Cannock, 1.16 per cent decline to 85, three openings and four closures; Lichfield, 1.68 per cent decline, 117, nine openings and 11 closures; Stafford, 1.35 per cent decline, 146, nine openings and 11 closures; Wolverhampton, 0.85 per cent decline, 234, 19 openings and 21 closures; Dudley, 2.86 per cent decline, 102, six openings and nine closures; Halesowen, 1.39 per cent decline, 71, one opening, two closures; Kidderminster, 1.53 per cent decline, 129, six openings and eight closures.

Positive

Walsall town centre saw no change, starting and finishing the year with 161 as it saw 24 closures and the same number of new shops open. It was the same picture for Bloxwich which stayed at 29 - two openings and two closures.

There was a 5.32 per cent fall for Stourbridge from 94 to 89 with 10 shops closing and five opening.

In Birmingham, which saw the new Grand Central development open, there was a 4.12 per cent rise with 117 openings and 88 closures leaving the total at 733.

Andy Lyon, partner and head of retail at PwC in the West Midlands, said: "It's great to see these positive retail figures for the West Midlands. The lower rate of closures in 2015 reflects optimism amongst retailers and indeed most consumer confidence indices support this."

"The opening of Grand Central in Birmingham has clearly made a big impact, and it is also encouraging to see less churn on the high street. In addition, retail insolvencies are at an historical low," Mr Lyon added.

"The openings are concentrated on experience-type outlets, especially food and beverage. The closures reflect ongoing structured changes in retail banking and the higher regulatory hurdles facing so-called 'money shops'."

Rick Astley puts himself in the frame to support Staffordshire Day

Rick in picture to push big day

RICK Astley has pledged to the people of Staffordshire that he's 'never gonna give up' on them or the county with a very special selfie.

The 'Never Gonna Give You Up' singer and YouTube star is urging people to pose for a selfie for Staffordshire Day.

Posters have been placed around the county asking people to be in a photograph next to the sign to show their support and be in with a chance to win a family day out at one of Staffordshire's many attractions.

And pop star Astley is one of the first to snap himself next to the poster.

Fans were alerted to his support for the county after 'Enjoy Staffs' on Twitter shared the snap with the caption "@astley is supporting #StaffordshireDay! RICK ASTLEY!!! Are you?" Astley is most famous for his number one hit 'Never Gonna Give you Up' which went straight to the top of the charts in 1988.

It was number one for five weeks and was the best-selling single of the year. He is now promoting his new single Keep Singing. Staffordshire Day is on May 1.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

AUNTIE Beeb says the Top Gear stunt, with a wheel-spinning Mustang clouding the Cenotaph in tyre smoke, will not be broadcast. Well, of course not. It has served its purpose. It has proved the old adage that there's no such thing as bad publicity.

ASK A silly question, get a silly answer. The form for a US visa asks: "Do you seek to engage in or have you ever engaged in terrorist activities, espionage, sabotage or genocide?" John McGarry, a blameless retired cop from Lancashire, says his travel agent mistakenly ticked the box. As a result Mr McGarry was marched off the cruise ship when it docked in New York and was questioned by police, an experience which he says ruined the trip.

MORE things misheard in youth. A former cookery teacher recalls the pupil who thought she was using self-erasing flour.

HERE comes the sun, and with it a lesson in physics. If I light our stove, the lounge takes about two hours to warm up. If the sun shines through the windows, the room warms up in 20 minutes. Even though it's 93 million miles away, the sun is remarkably good at making things hot. This rarely gets a mention in the issue of climate change, yet Google has more than a million references to climate change and solar activity, varied enough to endorse any theory you choose to support, and demolish the ones you don't like. Something to read while toasting in your hammock this blazing March.

THE Archbishop of Canterbury says it is not racist to worry about mass immigration, and he makes the headlines. Yet while it is moderately interesting to hear an archbishop admit migration can bring problems, it is far more interesting to hear a migrant saying the same. Keith Vaz, the Labour MP who came to the UK with his family in 1965, says the system for resettling asylum seekers is unfair. The usual line from the Left is that immigration, diversity and multiculturalism are wholly beneficial, and the more the merrier. The Left love to use words such as "cultural enrichment" and "vibrant" and try to pretend it's a joyous thing to have lots of non English-speaking surgeons, and schools where 50 languages are spoken. But Vaz says: "The dispersal system appears unfair, with whole swathes of the country never receiving a single asylum seeker." In other words, the inner-cities have had enough, time to share the vibrancy around.

BETTER late than never. The Private Eye reports the curious fact that a director of Volkswagen, the car maker accused of falsifying diesel emissions, is called Olaf Lies – as reported in this column last October.

Good causes bag share of £11m fund

TESCO customers have voted in their millions and helped good causes in Cannock Chase bag a share of an £11.5 million fund.

The supermarket teamed up with Groundwork to launch its Bags of Help initiative, which sees grants of £12,000, £10,000 and £8,000 – all raised from the 5p carrier bag levy – being awarded to environmental and greenspace projects. Millions of shoppers voted in stores up and down the country.

The final three winners are Chase Fit Sensory Garden who will receive £12,000; The John Bamford Primary School £10,000 and Colton Local Nature Reserve £8,000.

The groups will now use their award to bring their projects to life and transform their community.

Caroline Silke, Head of Community at Tesco, said: "Bags of Help has been a fantastic success. We have been overwhelmed by the response of our customers and the feedback has been brilliant. We can't wait to see the money being put to use bringing these projects to life."

Voting ran in store from February 27 until March 6 – with customers choosing which group they would like to get the top award using a token given to them at the check-out. Tesco estimated that around eight million votes were cast in total.

Groundwork's national chief executive, Graham Duxbury, said: "This is money which will go directly back into the communities up and down the country."

Nominations and applications for the next round of Bags of Help funding will open on April 18.

Inspectors tell home it requires improvement

By Jordan Harris

A RESIDENTIAL care home in Rugeley has been told to improve by Care Quality Commission inspectors.

The Mavesyn Ridware Residential Home was given a rating of 'requires improvement' by the watchdog after falling short of standards in effectiveness and leadership.

Inspectors carried out a review of the home on January 28 and noted that although it had improved since their last visit in August 2014, work was still needed. The home provides residential care for up to 21 people over 65 who are suffering with dementia or other conditions.

Despite being marked as 'good' in terms of safety, care and responsiveness, the home fell short in other categories and was given the overall rating of 'requires improvement'.

Inspectors said that staff at the home were 'making applications to restrict people of their liberty' without properly checking they could not make their own decisions.

Decisions

The report says: "People made decisions about their care and staff sought people's consent before they provided care and support.

"Where people were not able to make decisions for themselves because they may lack capacity, the provider had not always assessed whether people could make these decisions themselves.

"We have asked the provider to make improvements."

Malcolm Hurst, proprietor of the home, said: "Everybody that uses the service praises it. These reports have no considerations for costs or the investment that is put into a home, we actually take very good care of people.

"The people there are happy – the food is very good, the accommodation is excellent. No problems have been reported. We will work on it.

"We saw that people's privacy and dignity was respected and people were called by their preferred name.

"People were confident that staff supported them in the way they wanted," Mr Hurst added.

By George! Pub aims for saintly record

Karina Rogers, left, with The Stag's Leap team as they prepare for the St George's Day activities

A NEWLY OPENED Rugeley pub has joined with 12 others across the UK to celebrate St George's Day in what licensees says is a unique way.

The Stag's Leap, in Wolseley Road, is part of the Generous George chain, and opened its doors for the first time last month. Manageress Karina Rogers now plans to assemble as many people named George as possible on April 23 in order to set a Generous George record.

Karina is calling on Georges, Georgies, Georgias and even Mr and Mrs George to stand up and be counted at a family fun day at the pub.

She said: "We've only been open a couple of weeks and we think this will be a great ice-breaker to get people from Rugeley, Cannock, Lichfield and the surrounding areas to come and visit and play their part. Everyone knows a George – George is a name that spans age and sex – and we want to gather men, women, girls and boys, of all ages, with every possible version of the name on St George's Day for this attempt.

"As a thank you for taking part and for helping us set a new Generous George record, all Georges in attendance will receive a complimentary drink, or a free ice cream for kids when they present proof of their name.

"Following the birth of Prince George in 2013, there has been a real surge in popularity for the name."

Drivers can have say on fee rise for car parking

CAR park charges are set to be increased in Lichfield city centre, council chiefs have indicated.

Lichfield District Council, which manages 18 car parks including more than 2,100 spaces, has declared the costs of maintaining the sites have risen despite prices staying the same in the last eight years.

The authority said it had invested £6 million in managing and developing car parks in recent years and the proposed increases would help it sustain spending in the future. The rises would see fees at short-stay car parks increase by 10p for one hour, 10p for two hours, 20p for three hours, 20p for four hours and £1 all day.

In long-stay car parks, charges are set to go up by 10p for four hours, 20p for six hours and 30p to stay all day.

No changes are proposed for the £1 rate to park all day on a Sunday.

The rises apply to the city centre only and not wider parts of the district such as Burntwood.

The council has issued a questionnaire and requested motorists provide feedback on the possible changes as well as what people think of the car parks generally.

Tourism and communications chief Councillor Helen Fisher said: "Car parks are vital to the economic well-being of Lichfield city centre, and we need to know how local people feel about them and our proposals. The questionnaire is available at www.lichfieldcc.gov.uk/carparksurvey and responses should be received by 5pm on Thursday, March 31.

Holiday weekend medicines alert

DOCTORS across Cannock Chase are urging people not to be caught out by the early Easter holiday – when most GP surgeries are closed.

They should make sure they have enough of their usual prescription medicines, stock up on over-the-counter remedies and first aid items and know which services are available even if the GP surgery is shut.

Dr Mo Huda, chairman of NHS Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group and a GP in Rugeley, said: "During bank holidays we tend to see an increase in calls to our out-of-hours GP service from people who have simply forgotten to re-order prescription medicines."

Help and advice is available 24 hours a day by ringing NHS 111 – just dial 111 – for free.

Warning as £220k of grants is withdrawn

A REPORT to Cannock Chase Council's cabinet has highlighted the impact the withdrawal of the Supporting People grant funding will have on vulnerable people in the district.

Supporting People funding helps people such as single homeless with support needs or teenage parents.

The Supporting People grant funding of £222,000 will be withdrawn by Staffordshire County Council at the end of this month.

This is in addition to £300,000 of funding which was previously withdrawn in 2014-15.

Councillor Frank Allen, housing portfolio leader, said: "Our partner agencies who manage the services affected are re-evaluating and trying to find alternative funding to maintain their provision and mitigate the impact. However, this has not been possible in all cases.

"In 2014-15 the council managed to protect all of the services provided in our sheltered housing schemes, through the introduction of a service charge, meaning sheltered housing scheme tenants continued to receive the same support.

"The council also protected the continued provision of a social alarms service to 1,350 vulnerable tenants in the district through efficiencies and funding from the council's housing revenue account.

"The council has taken action to lessen the impact of these cuts but the long-term future of these services remains uncertain."

Plans for signs sent to council

PLANNING applications received by Lichfield District Council include:

- Burntwood Business Park Zone 3, Robins Road, Burntwood - installation of three illuminated fascia signs.
- 197 Rugeley Road, Chase Terrace - two-storey side and single-storey rear extensions to form kitchen, dining room, car port, bathroom and two bedrooms.
- 7 Upfields, Burntwood - removal of conservatory and erection of a single-storey extension to form garden room.
- Derwent House, 1 Rake Hill, Burntwood - conservatory to side elevation.
- 9 Littlehay Manor, Colton - retention of garden outbuilding.

Comments must be received by April 4.

Mountain bikes taken from shed

TWO mountain bikes were stolen after a shed was raided.

Suspects forced the door of the shed at a property in Milton Road, Cannock, overnight on Friday, March 11. Police are investigating.

Fireworks blaze inquests delayed again

Simon Hillier - worker

INQUESTS into the deaths of two men from Hednesford who were killed in a huge blaze at a fireworks factory have been delayed again.

The hearings, which are concerned with the deaths of Simon Hillier and Stewart Staples, had been due to start last Thursday, having already been adjourned from February.

But they have now been pushed back until June 30 provisionally, about 21 months since the incident happened.

A spokesman for the coroner's office in Staffordshire said the inquest had been pushed back again as the coroner did not have all the information that he needed to hold the inquests.

Flames

It is believed they are still waiting on various reports to be submitted.

Flames took hold of SP Plastics, in Tilcon Avenue, Baswich, on October 30, 2014.

The fire claimed the lives of 41-year-old father Mr Hillier of Mountside Street, who worked at the warehouse, and 57-year-old father-of-three Mr Staples, 57, of Bond Way, who was a customer.

It took 50 firefighters to tackle the massive blaze at SP Plastics.

Hundreds of rockets were sent exploding into the sky above the industrial unit.

What was left of the building was demolished, and the firm went into liquidation.

Owner must pay £5k over attack by dogs

A DOG will be destroyed after its owner was told to pay £5,000 in compensation after a 'life changing' attack on a factory worker.

Craig Humpage, aged 33, was also given a 20-week prison sentence, suspended for a year, when appearing at Cannock Magistrates Court.

Humpage, of Holden Crescent, Walsall, had pleaded guilty to losing control of his English bull terrier Billy and allowing it to bite Christopher Thompson.

He also pleaded guilty to losing control of his other dog Saskia, of the same breed.

Humpage

The court heard how Billy attacked Mr Thompson at Showpa Plastics factory, in Landywood Lane, Cheslyn Hay, when the dog escaped.

Magistrates ordered Humpage to pay £5,000 in compensation to the victim, along with an £80 victim surcharge and £185 costs. He must also carry out 200 hours of unpaid work.

A destruction order was placed on Billy and a control order on Saskia with conditions that she be on a lead no longer than 1.5 metres when out in public and that she be muzzled.

Miss Liz Ryder, prosecuting, said: "The victim sustained a deep tear to the left calf, a bite on his left knee, teeth marks on his chest and a bite on his left buttock. He was taken to New Cross after the attack where he remained for three days on a cocktail of 15 different drugs."

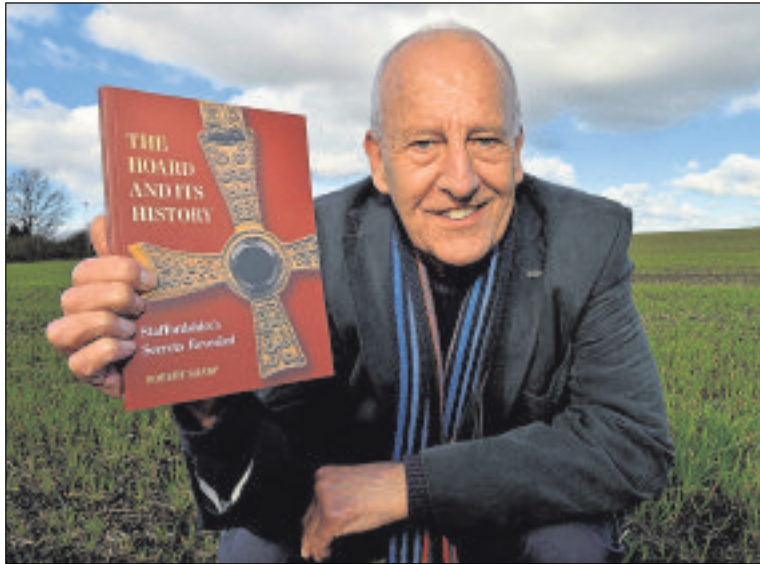

The court heard how the dogs had escaped from a skip yard where they had been left by Humpage. They got free due to the bad weather loosening the chains around the gates.

It happened around 3am on November 18. District Judge Jack McGarva said: "This was a life changing, horrific incident for Mr Thompson." The victim has since been unable to work due to post traumatic stress. His mother wept as details of the attack were read out.

Judge McGarva added: "When these dogs are with you, Mr Humpage, I am sure they are loving and affectionate creatures.

"But a frightened dog is a dangerous dog and I have seen the horrific effects and injuries caused by a frightened Billy." Miss Sarb Sehm, defending Humpage, who is a father of three girls, aged 10, 11 and 16, said the attack had 'absolutely devastated' her client.

Book unearths Hoard origins

Robert Sharp has published a book on the origins of the Staffordshire Hoard

IT was the largest collection of Anglo-Saxon gold ever found, and now seven years on a book has been published exploring the origins of the Staffordshire Hoard.

Intrigued historian Robert Sharp went to the site in Hammerwich when archaeologists were digging up the treasure trove in 2009. The 70-year-old, who lives in the village, has spent 18 months writing his book The Hoard and its History: Staffordshire's Secrets Revealed, in which he argues that hundreds of pieces, specifically the Christian items, originated from the early church centre of Lichfield.

He said: "The book is angled on the Christian pieces that have yet to be properly explained. Ten per cent of the hoard are Christian."

"A lot has been said about the sword and dagger pieces, the military pieces, but not much about the Christian side, and I wanted that story to be told. They clearly came from the early church centre which must have been Lichfield.

"The argument is made that the most likely origin of many of the pieces was from Lichfield.

"I am not saying they are all from Lichfield, because you just don't know," he added.

"But the argument is made that the most likely explanation could be that pieces are from the early church centre of Lichfield."

Power supplies cut to 2,500 properties

REPAIRS have begun on faulty cables which caused a power cut in Cannock affecting 2,500 properties including Tesco. Supplies went down at around 1.50pm on Sunday. The source of the problem was cables beneath the sub-station on Canterbury Way, Heath Hayes.

Most properties had their power back within the hour although Tesco had to wait for a back-up generator to kick in. Western Power Distribution said the issues were being fixed.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

It's wheely not on to keep up criticism

BLACK Country MP Ian Austin has challenged critics of the giant ferris wheel in Dudley town centre, including Good Morning Britain presenter Piers Morgan, to put their prejudices to one side, and give the DY Eye a try.

A noble sentiment, but I think it might be an idea if Piers decides to sit this one out. Yes the wheel is 135ft tall, and made from some pretty sturdy looking beams, but would you trust it to carry Morgan's weight?

It's big. But not big enough for Morgan's ego!

WHILE I would never take it upon myself to defend Morgan, you can hardly blame the national media for jumping on the Dudley-bashing bandwagon when there are so many people in the town who seem so keen to put the boot in themselves.

It was after all, not the national media, but 21-year-old Dudley student Vincent Parry who branded it the worst tourist attraction in Britain. And it was not the national media which branded Dudley a "shole", but another delightfully articulated son of the town.

What is it with these people?

It was the same when the Art Deco shoe shop at the top of the town was renovated with a small European grant. People were queuing up to say it was not worth bothering to spend any money on Dudley.

Then there is the delightful Caitlin Moran. Now a fully paid-up member of the London metropolitan elite, she never tires of painting the people of Wolverhampton, where she grew up, as a bunch of reactionary Neanderthal layabouts.

Let's be honest, there is plenty to criticise about both Dudley and Wolverhampton, and regular readers of this column will know that I have few reservations about pointing out these shortcomings on a regular basis. But while I might bemoan the dearth of major retailers in Dudley, or local government's belief that block-paving is the panacea for the decline of the high street, I certainly don't criticise anybody for trying.

Why would anybody object to a ferris wheel? Or a shop being renovated?

Yes there is a lot wrong with our towns. But unlike some people, I would actually like to see them get better.

BESIDES, it is worth taking a trip to see the giant wheel if only to marvel at the workmanship that has gone into it. Just look at those huge girders, the massive bearings, stare in awe at how the powerful engines lift people into the sky.

And then weep at how, little more than a generation ago, we used to make all these incredible structures here in the heart of the Black Country. Where now we have leisure parks and out-of-town shopping centres.

Wild man of rock Ozzy Osbourne

Willard getting to the point for next display

NICK HUMPHREYS talks to the creator of amazing micro-scopical figures Willard Wigan as he plans a new exhibition

BLACK Country rock legend Noddy Holder and micro-sculpting star Willard Wigan look set to join forces again with a mini monsters of rock show.

Willard unveiled his incredible sculpture of the Slade frontman in the eye of a needle at Wolverhampton's Light House.

And such was the reaction from both Noddy and the crowd, that the acclaimed artist wants to create a legends of rock music exhibition in the West Midlands.

He plans to create sculptures of Led Zepelin, Robert Plant, ELO as well as Black Sabbath frontman and West Midlands music legend Ozzy Osbourne. Mr Wigan said: "What we have done is we have started something here. I want to celebrate the West Midlands and the legends of rock music.

"I am going to New York to film a commercial for Nestle where I'm going to be carving the world's smallest piece of chocolate.

Legends

"But when I come back, I'm going to make sculptures of Led Zepelin, Robert Plant, ELO, Ozzy Osbourne and other legends of rock and we're going to hold an exhibition in the West Midlands. I'd like Noddy to host it for me.

"I want to celebrate music and the West Midlands. The 60s and 70s was the best era for music, it still influences young people today."

Walsall-raised Noddy hopes the Light House exhibition and the rock legends one, which is being planned, will make people sit up and take notice that the Black Country has talent. He said: "The thing is, you go around the world and people hear you speak and they think you're thick. People say we've got nothing here. I always say, 'well have you ever been?' They've never experienced the warmth of the people, it's the people that make a place.

Willard Wigan with the ex-Slade singer at the launch of his exhibition at The Light House

I don't live here any more but my heart is always here. You never lose your roots."

Mr Wigan added: "Think of the people who have come from here, you've got Noddy, myself, Denise Lewis, Goldie, the list goes on. There are talented people from here, so people shouldn't think that because they come from the Midlands they can't go on to achieve big things.

"The Queen of England was so overwhelmed by my work she gave me three letters," added Mr Wigan, who was given an MBE in 2007 for his services to art.

The sculpture of Noddy is the main attraction at the exhibition, which features more than 20 miniature masterpieces.

All the works have been created in the eye of a needle, set on a plate and mounted underneath a microscope inside a perspex bubble.

After becoming visibly emotional and shocked at the likeness of the tiny artwork to himself, in which he's wearing a sharp suit and has his trademark wild hair, he warmly embraced and thanked the creator.

Noddy, aged 69, said: "To have someone who is at the top of the tree at what they do to make something like that, it's probably the biggest honour I've ever had, and I've been a professional in the music industry for 50 years. He is the biggest and the best in the world at what he does.

"When I look at it, it is me! When I saw that he'd done it I had to come and see it in the flesh, and it is just brilliant. I am honoured that he has done this for me."

Mayor of Wolverhampton Ian Brookfield and city MP Rob Marris were among the admirers of Willard's work at the exhibition, as well as West Midlands stars Jemma Bird, of The Apprentice fame, drummer Fuzz Townshend, singer Connie Talbot from Britain's Got Talent and voice artist Marc Silk.

On his incredible work of Noddy, Willard said: "When I set about to do this, I thought is there anybody worth me putting in the eye of a needle?

"There are a few, but I thought is there anyone from my hometown that has made such a big influence on the world. Someone from the West Midlands.

"Then I thought, I know who he is, because my mum keeps singing his songs every Christmas! She's passed away now but I still here her singing his songs.

"His name is Noddy Holder, one of the greatest rock legends of all time.

"I wanted to make the biggest, smallest tribute to the man on this earth."

He added: "Noddy has had that massive impact on the world that will live on forever, this huge legacy.

"I thought about putting the whole band in the eye of a needle, I could have done it."

Other works on display include Jesus Christ with his disciples at the last supper, trees depicting the four seasons and the evolution of man. There are also sculptures of Frozen characters Elsa and Olaf, UFC superstar Conor McGregor, Bugs Bunny and Mario and Luigi among the intricate pieces.

Willard added: "The message is to never underestimate something small. I was told by my schoolteachers that I would amount to nothing, I would be cleaning out bins because I was stupid. I was used as an advert for failure because I had a learning difficulty."

He cites his mother as one of his biggest inspirations. He said: "She always said you can say a lot but mean nothing, or you can say a few words that mean a lot."

To create such tiny artwork, Willard has to work between heartbeats and become relaxed into a meditative state, as the smallest movement can destroy his work.

The tools used to create the sculpture were personally manipulated and fashioned by Willard to include as a chisel - a shard of diamond; and a syringe as a style of holder.

The hair of an aphid fly was then used to finally paint the sculpture, whilst using the claw of the fly to hold him still whilst applying the paint. The exhibition runs until May 2.

Alton Towers bosses: It's time to move on

Limo on move at a push

The limo gets stuck at the fair Picture: Steven Kendrick

CHASEWATER Country Park's first ever wedding fair was a big success as a steady stream of visitors enjoyed the spring sun.

Dozens of people inquired about caterers and cars as they planned their big day.

Passers-by and visitors even stepped in to help a limo that had got stuck in the mud.

Darren Coldicott, owner of DSC Limousines, said: "When I was backing up to get into position, I got stuck in the mud.

"I was only stuck for a few minutes when passers-by helped me to push it out. I didn't get any names, but I want to thank the people who helped."

Jane Lees, development officer at the park, said the wedding fair had been so successful that she hoped they'd be able to make it an annual event. She added: "It was the first one we've done, and it went really, really well."

Chasewater's next fair will be on April 30 in celebration of 1,000 years of Staffordshire, with local food, drink and craftspeople.

"WE know the events of last year were terrible for everybody involved but we think it is now time to move on."

These are the words of Alton Towers bosses as the theme park prepares to reopen for the new season – nine months after the horrific Smiler crash. The ride has reopened for the first time since the tragic events of last year which saw five people suffer serious injuries and two women have their legs amputated.

In the wake of the accident caused by a 'human error', the park remained shut for five days and visitor numbers continued to plummet.

As the summer season at the popular theme park gets under way after shutting for the winter period in November, bosses say lessons have been learned and they are looking forward to the future.

Gill Riley, marketing director at Alton Towers, said: "We know the events of last year were terrible for everybody involved but we think it is now time to move on."

Technology

"That's why we continue to invest, bringing new rides and attractions to Alton Towers. We have learned our lessons and we are looking forward to the future."

One of the park's main attractions for the new season will be Galactica, the first ride in the world to combine virtual reality technology with a working rollercoaster.

Last month, it was announced that the owners of the park, Merlin, will be prosecuted over the Smiler crash.

The Health and Safety Executive is taking the case against Merlin. Leah Washington, 18, from Barnsley, Yorkshire, had to have her leg amputated, while her boyfriend Joe Pugh, 19, suffered shattered knee caps.

Vicky Balch, 21, from Leyland and Daniel Thorpe, 28, from Buxton, were also seriously injured. Vicky had her leg amputated.

SO Mr Corbyn professes a love for the Black Country (Chronicle, March 10). It is a pity that love does not extend enough to properly defend it - along with the rest of the UK.

As a poorly educated lad from local mining stock, brought up in tumbledown terraced accommodation, I appreciate his frankness about his manor house upbringing situated nowhere near the nail makers or blast furnaces. The kudos he seeks is about as empty as Harold Wilson's pipe.

ONE hundred and fifty of the UK's most important scientists have signed a letter urging us not to leave the EU; science will suffer if we do, they claim.

That this is more Project Fear, and does not stand up to scrutiny, is easy to see.

Astronomers claim they will suffer from not getting access to major telescopes but there is only one big telescope in the EU. Most are high in the Andes, South Africa, Hawaii and elsewhere around the planet. Not being in the EU will make no difference to the current situation.

We will not be able to work on the International Space Station, they claim, but non-EU Norway, Switzerland, Canada and Japan are all major contributors along with Russia and the USA so EU membership is hardly vital. The same holds true for building satellites and other contributions to the space programmes. Prior to joining the EU, Britain even had its own space programme and was successful in launching a satellite in 1971 (Prospero). It was cancelled by the Heath government prior to joining the EU and is yet another area where EU membership has held us back.

Before we joined the EU we had some of the world's leading chemical industries in the UK but now we have none of our own. Leaving the EU could boost our industry in this area, not destroy it, as the scientists claim.

COUNCILLOR ALAN DEAN
Chairman, Cannock Chase UKIP

I HAVE always maintained that the coalition and current Government's policy on austerity is unfair, and the Chancellor's budget has confirmed my claims on how divisive and arbitrary the Tories are towards the most vulnerable in society in favour of the rich.

In my opinion, George Osborne's blatant callous attack on the disabled will prove to be a step too far, and a grave miscalculation by the Government. It has led to the resignation of Iain Duncan Smith, and left the party hierarchy in a very precarious position.

Contrary to what the Tories perceive as their popular welfare reforms, decent people in society with a social conscience will not be impressed with this attack on the most vulnerable. And the Government's complacency in victimising the disabled could prove to be their demise - unless they promise to offer a fair deal to all.

P WITTON

PRESIDENT Obama has threatened to end our special relationship. He demanded Britain increase its arms spending, to which the old Etonian dutifully complied, citing the Russian threat.

But Obama was still furious with the chaos Britain and France left in Libya after their bombing campaign.

They had faithfully promised to install a new government friendly to the US. But now the country is a haven for terrorists and on the brink of civil war.

It seems the 'Free Libyan Army' was not all Cameron cracked it up to be. Luckily parliament voted no to his war with Syria, as the 'Free Syrian Army' might not have turned out to be much better. The lesson for Obama must be if you want a good job doing, do it yourself.

County council has sole rights to flag

THE row over which flag ought to be 'officially' recognised for Staffordshire is even more confusing than that about whether the UK should remain part of the EU.

None of the bodies involved in the controversy has any authority to grant or recognise a flag or any other form of heraldry. That right rests solely with the Crown, which in England delegates its authority to the heralds of the College of Arms. The Lord Chief Justice of England, Lord Goddard, presiding in the High Court of Chivalry in 1954, expounded this as the legal position.

Staffordshire County Council remains the only body entitled to bear the gold shield with a red chevron and gold Stafford knot, but beneath the blue chief and gold lion.

The Association of British Counties, the Flag Institute and the Staffordshire Heritage Group have no right to usurp the authority of the Crown over flags and heraldry.

Who actually tackles litter?

THEY have built new roads and shops costing millions of pounds at the Orbital Centre, Churchbridge, but all you notice is litter on the verges and the islands.

The councils don't want to know, so who is accountable for keeping it as litter-free as it can be?

House sales a surprise

SURELY Councillor Witton can't just brush aside Labour's abysmal record on building social housing in the 13 years of power ("Social housing used for personal profit", March 10). Out of the two parties, one would assume that Labour would have substantially increased its social housing stock. Councillor Witton would be surprised at how many people have taken up the opportunity to buy their council houses.

M&S launches its new Foodhall

Councillor Maureen Freeman joins in the ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new M&S Foodhall in Orbital Way

THE new M&S Foodhall in Cannock has opened its doors for the first time. And the 10,000 sq ft outlet, which opened in Orbital Way last Wednesday, has named Gentleshaw Wildlife Centre as its chosen charity of the year.

Store manager Tom Mawby, along with his team of more than 55 employees – including long-serving member of staff Ron Brett, who has worked for M&S for 42 years – celebrated the launch with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Thirty five new roles were created by the store opening.

The team of new recruits and experienced M&S employees were also joined by the Cannock Council chairman, Councillor Maureen Freeman. One of the first customers through the door was Joanne Wiles, who said: "It's fantastic that M&S has come to Cannock."

Work on £20m depot to start

WORK is set to begin on the new £20 million First Choice distribution centre at Kingswood Lakeside.

The project is expected to create more than 100 jobs when finished.

The sale of the 5.8-acre plot of land at the Cannock business park to First Choice Catering has been approved, with the county council saying work will begin 'in the next couple of weeks'.

Once complete, the new distribution centre is expected to create up to 130 jobs for Cannock. The county council's economy leader Mark Winnington has praised the development.

He said: "Agreeing the land deal is a significant milestone for this development at Kingswood Lakeside as it means construction work can begin."

"We look forward to building work getting under way very soon. This is good news for Cannock and for Staffordshire as we're retaining a big company and enabling it to expand, with even more jobs set to be created. Kingswood Lakeside is one of the county's main business sites and one developed by the county council. It's therefore also pleasing to see another development there – Hellermann Tyton's new HQ – nearing completion."

First Choice Group's new building on the 100,000 square foot industrial unit at the business park will include a three-storey office building incorporating kitchens for catering and training purposes, all overlooking the lake.

First Choice director John Whitehouse said: "The business has seen double digit growth every year, moving to larger and larger premises in the process and is still expanding."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Pet retailer halts sales of rabbits

A PET retailer will stop selling rabbits Cannock over Easter. Pets at Home Cannock will stop selling rabbits from 9am on Good Friday until close of business on Monday. Visit petsathome.com/workshops or contact the store direct.

Court order to protect baby girl

A HIGH Court order has been granted to help safeguard a baby girl in Staffordshire believed to be at risk of undergoing unlawful circumcision. Mr Justice Keehan granted Staffordshire County Council a female genital mutilation order at the High Court in Birmingham to protect the baby. It is the first time this sort of action has been taken in the county. The council had already successfully obtained a High Court interim protection order until March 18.

Easter activities for youngsters

CHILDREN can take part in a number of Easter activities at markets across the district. There will be face painting, an egg hunt and a bunny handing out chocolates at the Cannock indoor, Prince of Wales and Skett's street markets from 10am tomorrow (Friday). Vocalist Natasha Marie performs in Cannock Market Hall from 10am to 2pm on Saturday, while in Rugeley Market Hall children can meet Mary Poppins and seek out the bunnies.

£1,000 donation to help train old 'uns

Ian Hughes, left, chairman of Lichfield Nomads, with Kelly Bourne, MEL fundraiser, with other Nomads members

A COMMUNITY cricket club has been given a £1,000 donation from the operators of the M6 Toll to help pay for equipment for the club's older players. The Midland Expressway Ltd group, operators of the toll road, made the donation to help Lichfield Nomads Cricket Club purchase a BOLA machine for its more mature members. The throwing machine is used for cricket training and will allow players to practise their batting against a consistent bowler. The club was started in 1982 and has a focus on playing the game for enjoyment rather than competition. The emphasis on friendly cricket, without the pressure of league ranking to worry about, has enabled a wide range of ages and abilities to find a place in the playing ranks. There are nine club members over 50 years old, with five of those being over 60. Ian Hughes, club chairman, said: "We are delighted to have the support of the M6 Toll. The bowling machine makes a real difference to the quality of our practice sessions. It makes us feel like professional cricketers. "Time will tell if it makes a difference to our results. Our hopes are high for the coming season."

Meanwhile, Hospital Radio Stafford has benefited from a generous donation from MEL to fund IT equipment. The station began its transmissions in 1972 and currently broadcasts to County Hospital and Katharine House Hospice in Stafford and Cannock Chase Hospital. Colin Smith, the station's secretary, said: "MEL's £500 contribution has directly funded the purchase of two new computers which are currently being installed in our studios."

Fundraisers to purchase defibrillator

Etching Hill WI

MARJORIE Boothby, a volunteer working in pastoral care in the chaplaincy of HM Prison Stafford, was the speaker in March.

Marjorie, a former primary school teacher, spoke of how she started volunteering by being asked if she would play the organ at the chapel, which in 1962 was just a 'Nissan' hut. She encouraged the prisoners to sing and called such sessions Singalong with Marj, offering mints to improve the singing. By the early 1990s a new chapel was built.

Marjorie joined the prisoner visitor scheme and eventually became its organiser.

She won the Rab Butler Trust Award in 2002 and 2016 and in 2003 received a letter from Downing Street advising that she had been nominated to receive an MBE in recognition of her volunteering work. She could not tell anyone until this had been confirmed but on March 24, 2004 she was presented with her MBE by Prince Charles at Buckingham Palace.

Members enjoyed looking at memorabilia from her special day.

As part of the group's 70th birthday celebration there will be a number of fundraisers to raise money towards a Public Access Defibrillator for the community, to be sited at Etching Hill Village Hall. The first of these will be a coffee morning at the village hall on April 20, from 10.30am to noon, featuring stalls and a raffle. Tickets are £3 to include coffee and cake.

Guest gives address as Tudor housewife

June Fox, sponsor Jenny, chairman Joyce Cox, Mary Fullelove and Jill Gooch

CHAIRMAN Joyce Cox welcomed members to her first meeting, and to speaker Valerie Campbell who came dressed as a Tudor housewife.

Valerie introduced the ladies to each item of clothing she was wearing; only the underclothes would have been washed regularly. The outer clothing would have been sparsely embroidered, as only the upper classes would have had the time or money for rich fabrics and embroidery.

Her bodice or corset would have been laced at the front; only genteel ladies would be 'tight laced' at the back by their maids. A 'street woman' might be 'loose laced' for ease of removal, hence the term 'loose woman'.

Her shoes were heavy wood based with strong leather and laces. The child mortality rate was very high, along with many women dying in childbirth. To counteract body odours posies and pomanders would be carried with sweet smelling flowers, and lavender strewn on the floors for their aroma.

Cannock and District Ladies Probuss

Membership of Cannock Ladies Probuss is maintained at 65 members by the introduction of three new members this month, who were introduced by their sponsors. These are Mary Fullelove, Jill Gooch and June Fox. Jill was also welcomed as the new treasurer at the recent AGM.

Meetings for Cannock Ladies Probuss are held on the first Thursday of each month at The Chase Golf and Country Club.

Rotary team in quiz final

THE Lichfield Rotary Club team of David Kershaw, Kelvin Armistead, John Heald and Godfrey Eland will join Birmingham Breakfast, Knowle & Dorridge, Rugby, Southam 2000, Droitwich Spa and Kinver in the district quiz final to be held at the Warwick Hilton on April 12.

Rotary Club of Lichfield

All incoming officers are invited to the District Assembly on Saturday, April 23 at Warwick University.

This is seen as a great opportunity to meet the new District Officers who might be in contact with the club over the coming Rotary year.

Red-hot savings at Aldridge Fireplaces

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

AS the Easter break is upon us and summertime is fast approaching, why not take advantage of some spectacular savings, by visiting Aldridge Fireplaces' buoyant fireplace showroom in the centre of Aldridge town.

Since relocating to Aldridge eight years ago the company seems to be going from strength to strength.

It has also added another branch to its collection at Bromsgrove in Worcestershire. "We highlighted Bromsgrove as being a good location which had a good array of surrounding areas," owner Dan Pennell says.

Lifetime

Aldridge Fireplaces is a family-owned business with brothers Matt and Dan Pennell at the helm. "Our emphasis is based on a relaxed, personal service where we offer a no rush service," Matt states. "We realise your fireplace purchase is probably one you are only going to make once in around 20 years or even once in a lifetime, so if the customer can't decide in the shop we will visit each individual home to offer our expert opinion."

The stylish showroom features some exclusive marble and Portuguese limestone displays, solid wood and stone surrounds. "We also now offer a wide range of wood burning stove" states Dan.

It's been a really positive few years after the company received the most testimonials in 2014 for 'most loved

The plush showroom gives an indication of the diverse range of fireplaces fireplace shop' in the UK via the best of Walsall website. 2015 saw Aldridge Fireplaces finish 3rd after its category was extended to home improvements, but it was still top fireplace showroom in the UK (on the bestof sites). It now has well over 100 testimonials on the bestofwalsall website which can be viewed at www.bestofwalsall.co.uk.

The experienced sales staff are also able to offer packages to suit all ages and styles of home, and offer quality products at affordable prices, as well as manufacture bespoke fireplaces to the correct size if required.

In addition to this there is currently FREE FITTING on offer when you purchase any fire with a suite. "But there's also some more good news from this Good Friday, Saturday and Bank Holiday Monday, we are carrying out one of our biggest offers to date," Dan states.

"We feel Easter is a great opportunity for families to get out and with this in mind we wanted to offer our best offer yet. This weekend only if you purchase any of our fireplace suites you'll receive 50 per cent off any of our gas or electric fires, this could possibly save you around £300 on average," Matt adds.

Aldridge Fireplaces will then fit both your newly-purchased fireplace and fire for absolutely nothing as well. "We find this is where we excel compared to other fireplace showrooms in the area who just offer a card from a third party engineer," Dan adds.

The offer starts at 10am Good Friday from 10am-4.30pm. Saturday 10am-4.30pm. Sunday closed and reopening Bank Holiday Monday 10am-4pm. Aldridge fireplaces is located at 51a Anchor road, Aldridge, WS9 8PT, opposite the Crown pub (the Elms pub).

New venue for town is music to the ears

A NEW live music venue is to be created at a former social club in Cannock town centre after plans for an alcohol and drugs rehabilitation centre were shelved.

The old Progressive Working Men's Club was set to become a rehab centre until plans were rejected.

Addiction Dependency Solutions Staffordshire had promised to invest heavily in the building but planning bosses vetoed the plans after objections from bosses at the nearby Cannock Campus of South Staffordshire College who labelled the plans 'ludicrous'.

Now a new live music venue is set to open its doors on the site, initially creating at least 10 jobs.

The owners of The Station aim to bring a wide variety of music to the area. Phil Beaman, aged 27, one of the owners, said: "We saw the potential for something new in Cannock."

Audience

"Now, if you want to see anybody decent, you have to travel to Stoke, Birmingham or Wolverhampton. We also want to bring in lots of local talent. We'd like to offer something fresh. I want it to be the lead venue locally, and a key part of Cannock."

The venue next to the bus station will accommodate an audience of 350. It will also include a bar, licensed until 2am Monday to Saturday and midnight on Sunday. There are currently no plans to open The Station when there isn't an act playing.

The 4,000 sq ft club will have a main stage area, two snug rooms and a games room. Early acts will include alternative metal band InMe and The Doors Alive, a Doors tribute band.

Partly backed by The Prince's Trust, The Station will open at some point in mid-April.

The old Progressive Working Men's Club will become a live music venue

Rider safety course to return

STAFFORDSHIRE Police are again running courses to reduce the number of accidents involving motorcyclists.

The award-winning RideBy5 sessions, which is part of the Pathway to Rider Development, will be held for free at a number of locations.

They will be supported by Staffordshire Safer Roads, the Institute of Advanced Motorists (IAM) and the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA).

Among the sessions is one at Motorcycle Essentials in Cannock on July 2.

"We believe that training should not only be available to the riders who can afford to pay for it but open to everyone," a force spokesman said.

"It is open to any style of bike. The only stipulation is that you must hold a full motorcycle licence, be fully road legal with regards to insurance and MoT, and not currently be a member of the IAM or RoSPA, as the places available are very limited."

Chase Line concerns in return to Commons

CANNOCK Chase MP Amanda Milling has once again raised issues experienced by Chase Line rail users in the House of Commons.

Ms Milling questioned Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin over the plight of passengers on the route following numerous complaints about overcrowded, delayed and cancelled trains.

She said she was keen to ensure that the Government and service operator London Midland were fully aware of the concerns and that they could be quickly resolved.

Her question follows several letters that she has written to London Midland outlining the frustration of residents in Rugeley, Cannock and Hednesford, seeking commitments that the issue will be dealt with and not repeated in the future. Ms Milling has also written to London Midland seeking reassurances that trains will be operating promptly upon completion of the ongoing electrification work on the line.

Familiar

She said: "I am keen to ensure that London Midland commit to operating electric trains, which will have much more frequent services and many more seats than the current diesel trains, as soon as the works are complete."

"I won't accept a situation where the works are complete and connected but local residents are having to contest with the current overcrowding issues that are all too familiar to line users."

Responding to her concerns, Mr McLoughlin said: "I am grateful to My Honourable Friend for her question."

"I was in her constituency just a few weeks ago and noticed that electrification work had already started on the line that runs through Hednesford to Cannock, not least at Stafford Lane and down by Brindley Heath where new bridges have been put up. I happen to know the area very well; it is where I grew up."

Drew rewarded over trip

WHEN Drew Morgan approached her local Lions club to sponsor a working holiday, little did she know how far the journey would take her.

Last summer Drew and two other Rugeley students were part of a team who spent a month in Peru helping to improve the infrastructure of a school, teaching English to youngsters as well as trekking to see the sites up in the Andes.

On their return all three girls were presented with the Young Lions in Service Award in recognition of their achievements and for helping the Lions in a number of fundraising events so as to gain the financial support of the club.

Drew then represented Rugeley and District Lions in the Young Ambassador competition talking about her other voluntary work and overseas experiences and reached the national finals in Dudley.

Drew has now followed this up by giving a presentation at the Lions District Convention and was awarded a £500 bursary to help continue the ongoing programme of development in Peru.

Students aim high for hospital funds

Cheslyn Hay High School students on Snowdon, raising money for Birmingham Children's Hospital

A GROUP of teenagers tackled Snowdon at its coldest to raise money for a children's hospital.

Sixth formers from Cheslyn Hay High School visited the highest mountain in Wales as part of raising more than £1,800 for Birmingham Children's Hospital.

The 16-and-17-year-olds were aiming for £1,500 and boosted the funds with non-uniform days and cake sales.

But it was the trip to Wales that the group were building towards. Head of sixth form Katie Luntley said she was very proud of her students. "It was fantastic, a really brilliant day," she added. "They were very enthusiastic, but for some of them it was a bit of a shock. It wasn't the gentle stroll they thought it was going to be."

The group started their walk at 9.30am but found they could not make it to the top because of snow and ice. They walked as far as they could, and were back down at the foot of the mountain by 3.30pm.

Katie said: "They were all absolutely shattered."

Woman fined for dog mess

A WOMAN has been ordered to pay £700 after she was seen not clearing up after her dog while she was walking the animal in Burntwood.

Teresa Collis, of Hill Street, Chasetown, was found guilty at Stafford Magistrates Court of a dog fouling offence.

The case was brought by Lichfield District Council after Collis was seen not clearing up after her dog when she walked it within the grounds of Burnt-wood Leisure Centre last July. Collis did not attend the court hearing.

In her absence she was ordered to pay a £200 fine, costs of £482.40 and a victim surcharge of £20 – a total of £702.40.

Warn

Councillor Colin Greatorex, the council's cabinet member for housing and health, said: "We know that keeping our streets and green spaces free of litter and dogs' mess is extremely important to our residents and visitors.

This case should warn all dog walkers that failing to clean up after your dog is an offence, and one that we take very seriously."

The prosecution is one of several actions the council is taking to combat dog fouling.

In the last year, the council has issued 13 fines (fixed penalty notices) to people seen not clearing up after their dogs, and it is also prosecuting a further person for a dog fouling offence.

To report a dog fouling location in the district, call 01543 308725 or visit www.lichfelddc.gov.uk/reportit

16Renewable energy is hot topic

The Chronicle Thursday, March 24, 2016

A NEW learning resource will help pupils as young as five learn about renewable energy in Staffordshire.

Youngsters will be able to discover how the county is driving down the amount of waste sent to landfill, and how it is being used to power thousands of homes.

The Light Up Learning resource was launched by Staffordshire's Waste to Energy Recovery facility. The packs cover Key Stage one through to Key Stage four and aim to help 'reduce, reuse, recycle and recover' waste.

As well as the teaching packs, students can also visit the Waste to Energy Recovery facility in Four Ashes which is run by environmental company Veolia.

Steve Mitchell, director of Veolia, said: "This is a great opportunity for schools to further the knowledge and understanding of our future generations about green energies."

Cadets excel at youth event

Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis with members of Cadet units

YOUNG police cadets excelled at a live event to celebrate the work of voluntary youth organisations.

A team of Cadets, aged 16 and 17, from the Stafford and Cannock units, attended alongside Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis, even forming a guard of honour for VIPs.

The event featured live performances and demonstrations by young people along with mini-workshops and networking opportunities.

The Cadet Service was named as a finalist for the Les Simmons Youth Impact Awards, celebrating the positive impact of a youth organisation in Staffordshire, while Cannock unit member Emily Williscroft was nominated for the community award for her work to highlight the growing issue of Female Genital Mutilation.

Following the talent showcase, the young people took part in a networking event where they handed out leaflets for the newly-launched Staffordshire Smart Alert App which provides real-time crime alerts.

Sports teams booted off at Shugborough

DOZENS of sportsmen who have played at Staffordshire's Shugborough Estate for decades are set to be booted off by the National Trust which is taking over the site.

Football and cricket teams say they are 'gutted' at being told they have just six months to find somewhere else to play.

The trust has said because the space is not a 'public amenity' it could order clubs to leave without the need for a consultation. They have also cast doubt over whether charity events could be held at the venue.

Chris Silverstone, who co-runs Great Haywood FC that have played at Shugborough for more than 30 years, said: "I told my lads last Sunday and they were gutted. There is absolutely nowhere else in the village that has a full size pitch.

Difficult

"It will mean we will have to move out of Great Haywood to somewhere miles away. It is going to makes things very difficult but at the moment we are still trying to work with everybody and find a solution."

The move is also set to effect two other football teams as well as cricket clubs in the area.

A petition opposing the move has gathered more than 700 names and has been handed to Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy. It was announced earlier this year that Staffordshire County Council, which has been running Shugborough for the last 49 years, would be handing management back over to the National Trust which owns the heritage site.

Andy Beer, trust director for the Midlands, said: "As the facilities at Shugborough are not owned by the local authority, they are not public amenities, so there was no requirement for the National Trust to consult over their closure. We have given clubs six months' notice that their arrangements with the council will not continue with the trust, to allow them time to find alternative venues.

"Once the county council's lease is surrendered at the end of October, the management and upkeep of the Shugborough estate will be purely funded by the National Trust with the aim of conserving the Grade I historic landscape.

"Longer term, the trust will work with Sport England to provide a range of sporting activities for visitors that have minimal impact on the historic parkland and complement our conservation aims. This will not include community football or cricket pitches."

The county council has confirmed the Ironman 70.3 events will still be held at Shugborough for the next two years despite the handover, although the trust could not provide the same guarantee for charity events.

Mr Beer said: "With conservation as our core principle, we have to take care to balance conservation with access, but any requests for the use of the park for charitable events would be considered on their own merit."

Work set to start on artificial grass pitch

Councillors Diane Todd, Christine Mitchell, George Adamson, Gordon Alcott, Mike Hoare, Sheila Cartwright and Jessica Cooper look at plans for the site of the former West Cannock Sports and Social Club

WORK is about to start on an artificial grass pitch in Bradbury Lane, Hednesford.

Local councillors were invited to look at plans for the site of the former West Cannock Sports and Social Club.

The scheme includes a fenced full-size floodlit 3G artificial grass pitch (AGP) and a new changing pavilion.

In February 2015, Cannock Chase Council was awarded £390,039 from Sports England towards the project, which will bring the disused site back into constructive use for sport and active recreation. The site has not been used since 2008.

Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio leader for culture and sport, said: "It has been a long process from the planning stage, so I am delighted that work will start on the artificial grass pitch this spring/summer."

"The council has a major role in contributing to the promotion and delivery of increased participation in sport, recreation and physical activity."

"This provision of a first-class sports and recreation facility will meet the needs of the community and benefit the whole district." Contractors have been appointed for the work on the pitch and the council is tendering for contractors to build the pavilion.

Councillors have also visited the multi-use games area (MUGA) at the Cannock Stadium site as it nears completion. Works on the derelict multi-use games area started last month, and it is set to be complete at the end of March.

The MUGA will enable 11-to-16-year-olds to play recreational football, basketball and cricket in a purpose-built floodlit area.

Councillor Mitchell said: "The transformation is amazing."

A cheque for £100 is handed over to D.A.D.S

Changing the perceptions of disabilities

Staff and volunteers at D.A.D.S offer support to families and their children

ADVERTISING FEATURE

D.A.D.S is run by parents and carers who have children with special needs and disabilities.

This group is not just there to offer support to get through day-to-day, but also support each other through the tough times.

D.A.D.S was set up by Andy Aldred and provides free training courses, which are available for everyone in the community and a centre where people can come for advice and receive the guidance they need. It also works with the local support team and refers people to professional bodies, for example Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service (CAMHS).

The charity is currently putting together a sensory room and centre to help children with disabilities and their families. Trips, events and training courses run by D.A.D.S are open for all the community. This is because we aim to build awareness to make a difference, we aim for inclusion for families who have children with disabilities and to do this we need to include everyone, to make people aware that not every disability is easy to see.

By bringing everyone together we aim to make a difference for the next generation, to stop discrimination and isolation that families are currently experiencing.

Originally D.A.D.S was set up just for male parents and carers with children with various ailments and disabilities.

But is not just for fathers, it's for everyone to join, share information and ask questions, to offer and get support.

Recreational

Our key aims are: Providing workshops, forums, advocacy and general support; raising public awareness of the issues and challenges facing disabled children and their families both in general terms and in relation to their social exclusion and changing perceptions; providing recreational facilities and opportunities for disabled

Billie Dando is a volunteer with the charity children and their families to interact more effectively in their wider community; providing education and information support to families to help disabled children to meet their potential.

D.A.D.S want to build a place where all ages and sizes can come and be themselves. We feel vulnerable people should have the same chances and opportunities as everyone else without being discriminated against.

Did you know there are hundreds of hidden disabilities? At D.A.D.S we want to be able to stop discrimination of these disabilities and make people understand that just because you can't see it doesn't mean that it is not there. We want to promote the social inclusion of children with disabilities and behaviours that challenge and their families who as a result feel socially excluded.

D.A.D.S now have a new inclusion cafe on site, providing breakfast, snacks, lunch and hot and soft drinks. All profit from the cafe goes direct to the charity.

Volunteers are always needed, so if you are able to give us some of your valuable time, please contact Andy for more information.

Visit marks anniversary

CANNOCK Chase Council leader George Adamson visited residents at Grace Moore Court to mark the 30th anniversary of its opening.

The sheltered housing scheme of 20 flats, managed by the council, was built in March 1985 with the first stone being laid by Councillor Adamson.

The building was officially opened in 1986 by Miss Grace Moore, the then headmistress of Chadsmoor Infant School and the name was chosen after a competition at Chadsmoor Junior School.

Park work under way after arson attack

REPAIR work has started to upgrade play equipment at two arson-hit Cannock parks.

Yobs destroyed equipment at the Cannock Sports Stadium site on Pye Green Road in November.

The play area was part of a £1.3 million investment at the site and had only opened six-months earlier.

Work to replace park equipment torched in a separate attack at Heath Hayes in November is also being done. The estimated costs for both parks is £36,000.

Cannock Chase Council deputy leader Gordon Alcott said the work should only take a matter of days.

He said: "We are pleased to see that the work has started, but a cost of £36,000 is a lot of money for the local authority and equates to £1.50 on each tax payer's rates bill."

Cameras

"We are including within the new installation and development of these sites CCTV cameras so that in the future if there is any vandalism it will be picked up by these cameras and reported by the police."

"We are hoping it won't take long, it's a matter of replacing them with new equipment – it should only take a couple of days."

Theatre and hospice link-up for schemes

THE Lichfield Garrick has joined with St Giles Hospice to offer the families of those receiving care, and those who have lost a loved one, some much-needed respite.

The Garrick Cares campaign aims to inspire local young people and give them the chance to experience live theatre performances and workshops.

Anyone booking a ticket at the Garrick will be given the opportunity to make a contribution and to donate a ticket to the campaign. They can also donate independently at the box office.

Every ticket donated through the campaign will go directly to people under St Giles care. A new lottery scheme has also been announced to enable the Garrick to develop youth and community projects in the Lichfield district. For every £1 received from players joining the St Giles lottery as part of the new partnership, the theatre will receive 20p.

Alison Jerram, St Giles Lottery manager, said: "We're delighted to have officially launched this exciting new fundraising partnership."

Call the box office on 01543 412121 to donate to Garrick Cares. Leaflets for the St Giles Hospice/Lichfield Garrick lottery partnership can be picked up from the Garrick. Or, call 01543434020.

Museum to host tours into trenches

A party finds out about life in the trenches at a Staffordshire Regiment Museum Discovery Day

THE trenches of the First World War are set to 'come to life' at an event held at the Staffordshire Regiment Museum.

The venue, based at DMS Whittington near Lichfield, will host a 'Discovery Day' on Monday, March 28, which will see members of the museum's education team conduct guided tours throughout the site's reconstructed tunnels from the Great War.

Along the way visitors will come across the Regimental Aid Post which treated injured soldiers, a 'dug-out' fitted with bunk beds and tunnels which soldiers called The Moles used to undermine enemy trenches.

Museum spokesman Joss Musgrove said: "There will be a typewriter and film installation where images and sounds combine to evoke conditions on the Western Front - watch out for cries of 'Gas! Gas!' and keep your eyes peeled for snipers.

Advance

"Learn about how soldiers slept, ate and kept clean, and explore the new German trench section with its fortified pill box."

Ms Musgrove added: "Included in the tour is a uniform 'trying on' and weapons handling session plus full access to the museum's extraordinary collections, including a bugle that sounded the advance at The Somme - particularly poignant in this, the centenary year of the battle."

Tours will run from 10am to 3pm. Tickets range from £5 for children and £15 for families - two adults and two children.

The Colman Trench was opened at the museum in 2002 and was relaunched in 2014 after being redesigned. The revamp was geared towards providing a more realistic and emotional experience of what life was like on the Western Front during the First World War.

At the time of reopening it was hailed as the most sophisticated trench reconstruction outside of London's Imperial War Museum.

Fans go potty for Quidditch game

Teams take part in the British Quidditch Cup at Rugeley Leisure Centre

Action from the tournament

HUNDREDS of players descended on Cannock Chase for the British Quidditch Cup, the high-flying game made famous in the Harry Potter series.

Some 32 teams battled it out at Rugeley Leisure Centre. The Radcliffe Chimeras, from Oxford, defeated Warwick University Quidditch Club to win the third annual UK tournament.

The game is a faithful recreation of the Quidditch which appears in the books and films – except the brooms don't fly. Organisers hope it will be recognised as a legitimate sport by 2020.

It features two teams of seven. 'Chasers' try to throw the main ball – called a quaffle – through their opponents' three hoops, guarded by a keeper. Ten points are scored for each goal.

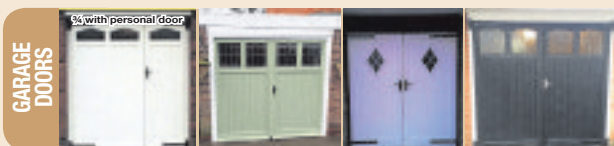

Two 'beaters' try to distract opponents by throwing volleyballs – bludgers – to make them return to their own end. The team's 'seeker' comes into play after 18 minutes to try to catch the 'golden snitch' – a yellow tag attached to a neutral player.

Catching the snitch earns 30 points and ends the game. Players carry a broom handle between their legs as a handicap, ensuring everyone plays one handed.

Quidditch UK spokesman Thomas Fisk said: "We broke the 30 team barrier for the first time. I think Rugeley now want to set up their own team after hosting the event."

Canal group seeks leader

LICHFIELD and Hatherton Canals Restoration Trust is seeking a new chairman. Following the death of Brian Kingshott – only the trust's second chairman in 28 years – vice-chairman David Dixon took over the role until the AGM on June 10 this year. Now the trust, which is restoring the historic Lichfield and Hatherton canals for the benefit of the community, is looking for a long-term successor. The role is unpaid but 'will provide a great deal of satisfaction to the right person', the new incumbent being the public face of the trust. Email chairman@lhert.org.uk

Box-ticking approach 'a waste of police time'

BOX-TICKING exercises are preventing officers in Staffordshire from carrying out their duties properly, the county's Police & Crime Commissioner has claimed.

Matthew Ellis said that police forces were having to practise for exam-style inspections, rather than concentrating on their jobs and working more closely with other agencies.

He said he still had serious issues with a recent report from Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary after it rated the way Staffordshire Police treats vulnerable victims of crime as 'inadequate'.

The report stated the force was not properly managing victims of domestic violence and had an inconsistent approach in responding to reports of missing children.

Mr Ellis, speaking during last week's Staffordshire Police and Crime Panel meeting, said: "I still have issues with the box-ticking approach that took place last year."

Difficult

"Having talked to other forces, it is clear some simply learned the system so they could pass the exam."

"Domestic abuse is a very difficult subject, especially within policing, but it has improved within Staffordshire. We were heavily criticised for not filling in every form but I say it should be up to each police officer to decide if a person is vulnerable. I see it as the de-professionalisation of policing through the back door."

Mr Ellis produced a report for the panel highlighting progress the force had made following the report.

It revealed structural changes had been made to provide specific leadership and a mandatory compliance on the use of risk assessments for domestic abuse incidents and crimes.

By James Fisher

New systems and processes have been developed to increase consistency, with training and cultural awareness activities for officers and staff.

Systems, processes and training to manage risks associated with missing children and a 'partnership hub' model to share information better across Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent are also being developed.

Mr Ellis said now every child under the age of 17 was classed as 'vulnerable' under new guidelines, he feared certain developments could get 'lost in the crowd'.

He said: "If you prioritise everything, nothing gets prioritised."

"We do have changes to make but we were the second highest force in the country out of 43 for identifying vulnerability but we did not fill in enough forms."

"While I think it should be more down to professional judgement this is the way things are going at the moment. But I make it entirely clear I am not happy things are being done like an exam."

Back in saddle as Cycle Rides for All return

THE monthly Sunday cycle rides programme, Cycle Rides for All, is back for 2016.

Cycle Rides for All is launching this weekend with a three-and-a-half mile Lichfield taster ride setting off from Beacon Park.

This event signals the start of free monthly cycle rides that are set to take place towards the end of the month, from March to September.

Each month the group cycles to a new destination, including Fisherwick Lakes, Weeford and Packington Moor Farm, Chasewater, the National Memorial Arboretum and Fradley Junction.

The rides are graded from Level 1, suitable for beginners, to Level 4, for more experienced cyclists.

Anyone who wants to join the Lichfield taster ride should turn up with their bikes at Beacon Park in Lichfield on Sunday at 11am. This ride is graded Level 1, suitable for beginners. Under-16s must be accompanied by an adult.

The full Cycle Rides for All programme, is at www.lichfelddc.gov.uk/cyclerides

To find out more or to check if a ride is taking place if the weather is uncertain, call Freedom Cycles on 01543 411633 or Karl Sproston on 01543 308846.

Get pizza the action at this refurb eaterie

PizzaExpress is celebrating the launch of its exciting new-look restaurant in Stourbridge by offering 10 fabulous prizes of a meal for two to the value of £40.

Located in a distinctive listed building in the heart of Stourbridge, the restaurant has been totally transformed and includes new artwork reflecting the building's former use as an upmarket tea room.

Each PizzaExpress restaurant is individually designed – often using well-known places, people or historical events from the area as the basis. During the 1960s, the Stourbridge building was known as Cranage's Tea Rooms and Royal Turf Lounge Bar.

Drawing inspiration from this, the artwork shows cakes, bread and other items sold at there. Today, though, it is tasty pizzas as well as delightful desserts on the menu.

Manager, Louise Kitson, said, "We love our restaurant's new look and have a friendly and enthusiastic team who are looking forward to welcoming everyone over a delicious pizza."

PizzaExpress has been dishing up fresh, handmade pizza to Stourbridge since 1999. This spring sees the launch of new specials including, for the first time in PizzaExpress' 51-year history, a Hawaiian pizza, as well as the first-ever gluten-free dough balls and a refreshed Leggera Superfood Salad which comes in under 500 calories.

For younger pizza-lovers, PizzaExpress' Piccolo menu is full of tasty choices including 'Create Your Own' pizza, and starts at just £3.95.

So many different ones to choose from

FOCUS ON PENKRIDGE

Blues, rock and folk acts head for Nowhere stage

THE Middle of Nowhere Music Festival is back in 2016 with a line-up featuring original performers and tribute bands.

Over the weekend of July 22 to 24, the team behind 'Staffordshire's blues, rock and folk event for everyone' say they are determined to make the festival, marking its 12th year, the best yet.

By David Banner

In addition to live music, the family-friendly festival at Lower Drayton Farm, near Penkridge, offers a host of other activities such as circus workshops, children's craft activities and pony rides.

Unique

Friday's acts include Staffordshire singer-songwriter Ben Owen, a rising star of the local indie scene, eclectic four-piece Herbaceous Borders with their unique fusion of blues, southern rock, rock 'n' roll, jazz and country and Staffordshire three-piece family folk-pop act Waiting for Susan.

Also taking to the stage will be The Superskas and Birmingham guitarist Steve Ajao and his Blues Giants band.

Rock royalty in the shape of former Lynyrd Skynyrd member Mike Estes with his Deep South rockers Skinny

Molly will head up the Saturday's line-up, which also includes tribute band The Secret Police, eclectic four-piece The Funkbreakers and Scottish all-girl rockers The Amorettes.

Also in Saturday's line-up are Hells Bells with their tribute to rock legends AC/DC. Winding up proceedings on Sunday will be The Urban Folk Quartet, featuring local music star and banjo king Dan Walsh.

The day also features Del Bromham, a founding member of UK rock band Stray, performing some of his classic hits.

Full details about the festival line-up, as well as information on how to purchase day and weekend camping tickets, can be found by visiting www.monmusicfestival.co.uk

Farm offers holiday fun for families

The Easter Bunny will greet guests, with visitors also having the chance to upgrade to the 'VIP Easter Bunny experience' and the 'Teddytastic' experience of choosing, building and naming your very own cuddly toy to take home.

Gates open from 10am each day until April 10 with last admission at 4pm. For full details, including pricing, visit www.lowerdraytonfarm.co.uk

Special toddlers days will be held on April 7 and 8.

Fame! Remember In short it was Ellie's all their names voice that captivated us

REVIEW

By Sue Attwater

FAME – very appropriate as many of the young performers look as though they could easily be heading that way.

It was hard to believe that this lively musical at the city's Grand Theatre was actually an amateur production.

The mostly young and very energetic cast were from Wolverhampton Musical Comedy Company MUS-COM and they certainly did the show proud. The talent, both singing and dancing, was quite amazing, better than I have seen in many professional productions.

Touching

The stage adaption of the 1980 musical film, is set at the New York School for Performing Arts, and follows four students from initial auditions to graduation.

There was a superb performance by Luke Bennett of Merry Hill as the serious Shakespeare-loving Nick Piazza. The talented Luke has, not surprisingly, gained a place at Laine Theatre Arts and Birds College in Kent. His love interest is Serena, played by Jess Olford, of Penn, with their touching, albeit brief, Romeo and Juliet scene.

Playing the role of 'one of the lads', who thinks less about poetry and more about girls – one in particular – is Compton's Liam Sargeant as Joe (José) Vegas and the fourth – last but most definitely not least – is Jason Guest from Willenhall who plays Tyrone Jackson,

No to Shakespeare! Liam and Luke the one who fails in class because of his reading problem but excels at dancing and choreography.

Taking a lot of the main singing roles and ending the show with the classic Fame song is Georgia Hudson as Carmen whose desperate quest for fame has a tragic ending. For the finale she belts out the song from the top of a yellow taxi.

The staging was basically just a series of steps with brilliant lighting effects but nothing could compete with the dazzling performances.

Ballet skills– Jason and Kimberley

Costumes and dancing were vibrant

Ellie Goulding was in fine voice at the Barclaycard Arena

TRAINS running on schedule and in the second city in plenty of time, the night was off to a good start even before this concert began.

And it was about to get even better.

An early arrival meant we were in time to see the principal support John Newman, whose Calvin Harris-infused Blame had the crowd pumped up even before the main attraction.

With Goulding planning to take a hiatus, it is fair to say the British music industry will be in safe hands with the likes of Newman, who has a soulful voice, yet dodgy dance moves and even more questionable white trousers. Come And Get It, Not Giving In and Love Me Again all featured in his set before Goulding rose to the stage on a hydraulic platform. With her own dubious fashion sense of shorts with Doc Marten boots, attentions soon turned to her melodic voice.

REVIEW – Ellie Goulding, Barclaycard Arena, Birmingham, By Mark Shipp

She appeared to be straining too much for my liking early on with Holding On For Life, despite a clearly heartfelt delivery. But the set was only four songs in when she had the crowd bouncing with another Calvin Harris collaboration Outside.

From hereonin, Goulding grew into the performance.

The Hereford-born 29-year-old is planning a self-imposed exile at the end of this Delirium tour, a victim of her own success which has seen her become the go-to for charity singles and film soundtracks. However, it is the close scrutiny of her personal life that has seen her wanting to take a back step.

She was in a good place, here, though, enjoying a good rapport with her fans despite a natural shyness that belies her status as a top performer.

After two more costume changes, she was back in her shorts and boots.

There were songs from third album Delirium, including a beautiful acoustic version of Devotion, and an up tempo Codes, as well as hits from previous recording Halcyon, Figure Eight and Explosions among them.

I Need Your Love and Burn took us to the end of the main set, but anything could happen, and she surprised us all with an encore that began with Your Song. It will be her songs that are missed while she takes a break.

Qemists stick to alternative formula

Hardcore electro-rockers Qemists are visiting Wolverhampton Slade Rooms tonight with Japan's Crossfaith

BRIGHTON rocks – and the latest band from the city by the sea, that's become a hotbed of punk, electro and other alternative sounds, is electro-rock quintet The Qemists.

Storming first single Run You, from new album Warrior Sound, featured on the trailer for Arnold Schwarzenegger movie Terminator Genisys and ITV's coverage of the Rugby World Cup.

Bruno Balanta, one half of the band's vocal output, says: "We're Rage Against The Machine meets The Prodigy meets Public Enemy. The music encompasses our rock influences, urban ethics and the heavy dance-infused electronica we love."

The band that have toured with Korn and Enter Shikari are not about to embrace the mainstream.

"Are we going to end up going all commercial and making really poppy sounding tracks? No, that's never going to happen because we're fans first and foremost of the type of music we're making. Why give up what you care about for cash?"

"For the last 16 months we've been pouring blood, sweat, and tears into our new album and I'm buzzing to unleash this record on the world live."

Tonight (Thursday) they are at Wolverhampton's Slade Rooms with Japanese electro-metal icons Crossfaith.

Adele says Hello Brum

SHE'S the hottest ticket in town, in fact, Adele is the hottest ticket in any town... and she's coming to Birmingham Genting Arena for four nights of concerts.

The Brit School graduate from Tottenham is the great British music success story of the early 21st century.

In just six years since her debut album 19 in 2008, followed by 21 in 2011 and 25 last year, Adele Adkins has become a genuine superstar on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean.

She won an Oscar for her Bond song Skyfall in 2013 and the same year went to Buckingham Palace to receive the MBE from Prince Charles.

Awards

She has won multiple record industry awards, including Grammys, Ivor Novello and Brits.

Her emotional performance of Someone Like You at the 2011 Brit Awards was credited with propelling her to stardom. That took the song to number one as she became the first artist in the UK since The Beatles to have two top five singles and two top five albums at the same time.

Her concerts on Tuesday and Wednesday, then again on the following Friday and Saturday, are all sold out.

The Birmingham dates mark the end of the British leg of her first tour in four years, since she gave birth to son Angelo, and she will be touring Europe during May and June.

Village jazz club back at new venue

ONE of the West Midlands' favourite jazz clubs is back at a new venue.

Jazz Club 90, in the Shropshire village of Albrighton, near Wolverhampton, built up a loyal following among musicians and jazz fans over 25 years at The Harp pub. New owners meant a move for the organisers, who have found a new venue at Albrighton Sports and Social Club.

It launched last year with a 25th anniversary gig in October and is running twice a month sessions for the jazz-starved denizens of the Wolverhampton and Telford area. Sunday sessions are from 1pm to 3pm, and admission is £5. For more information see www.jazzclub90.co.uk

It's a Grand choice for one-night shows

IT'S a busy week of one-nighters ahead at the Grand Theatre in Wolverhampton.

Indian Punjabi singer, poet and actor Satinder Sartaaj will be in concert tomorrow evening (Friday) with ticket prices ranging from £25 to £100 for the Sufi superstar's performance.

Roll up and maybe throw up when the Circus of Horrors bring their 21st anniversary tour to the Lichfield Street venue on Saturday night.

A Grand Operetta Gala featuring music by Gilbert and Sullivan is on Wednesday. Irish song and dance show Ireland's Call is on Thursday, March 31. Call 01902 429212.

Play for those who miss a Heartbeat

HEARTBEAT, the popular ITV show about police in 1960s rural Yorkshire, is being revived on stage in Birmingham.

The popular Sunday night series with its nostalgic soundtrack ran for 18 years from 1992, based on the Constable books by ex-policeman Peter Walker under pen-name Nicholas Rhea. It originally starred Nick Berry as Pe Nick Rowan.

David Lonsdale will return in his TV role of David Stockwell, as will Steve Blakeley as Pc Geoff Younger, joined by Hollywood actor Matt Millburn as Pc Joe Malton. It is staged at the New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Saturday, April 2.

Zoe Ball and Ashley Banjo

Can't Touch This (BBC1, 6.10pm)
New series. Zoe Ball and Ashley Banjo present the game show in which 16 contestants are challenged to battle their way through a giant obstacle course filled with prizes that are just out of reach. If the competitors are able to lay hands on any of the goodies within, they can take them home, including a grand prize that requires a giant leap of faith to claim. The contest gets under way as a father from Cardiff, a belly-dancer from Hull and a man called 'Mr Grumpy Pants' tackle the course. Narrated by Sue Perkins.

A chilling new comedy series is on the horizon

Cast your mind back to New Year 2014, and the one-off comedy Two Doors Down, which was set at a disastrous Hogmanay party.

Well, it was disastrous for hosts Eric (Alex Norton) and Beth (Arabella Weir), who had to entertain their eccentric neighbours – viewers and critics had a whale of a time, which is why Two Doors Down is now back for a new six-part series.

Writers Gregor Sharp and Simon Carlyle are certainly excited about the show making the transition from radio series and festive special to fully fledged TV sitcom, especially as it's given them a chance to create some new neighbours to annoy Eric and Beth.

One of the new recruits is played by Rab C Nesbitt's Elaine C Smith, who Simon describes as a 'legend'. Elaine is equally complimentary about the writers, saying: "Two Doors Down is a fresh voice in comedy and, whether I was in it or not, I'd watch it. It had a bit of Abigail's Party about it which I loved.

"My husband saw the pilot and raved about it. I said to my agent 'if anything comes up for Two Doors Down, count me in' thinking it would be a bit part in one of the episodes, so when they came back with Christine I was thrilled. I had been waiting for a role like this for a very long time after Rab C Nesbitt."

Hypochondriac Christine has certainly given the actress plenty to get her teeth into. Elaine says: "Christine is a single parent who lives with her teenage daughter, Sophie [Sharon Rooney], Christine's very like a man, which makes her liberating to play – she's had to be both parents to Sophie and has the freedom that males in comedy usually have – to be outrageous. She has some of the best lines I've ever had the joy to act."

And it seems there were plenty of good lines left over for her female co-stars, Arabella, Sharon and Doon Mackichan, who plays Cathy.

Elaine says: "Arabella had been in The Fast Show, I'd been in Naked Video and Doon in Smack the Pony so we've all come up through similar routes through sketch shows. Invariably, if you're a woman in a sketch show, you're on your own. Our role in the past was to feed the men in our shows the best lines.

"The day we all filmed a scene in a garden in Bishopton stands out to me as it was the four female leads and a female crew. I thought I was in a parallel universe! Women being allowed to be funny? It was just joyous."

The men will also be getting in on the action in this opening episode, as Eric accidentally leaves the freezer door open, so Beth decides to throw a party to use the up the food before it goes to waste.

Everything seems to be going well, until Cathy decides it would be a nice idea for Colin (Jonathan Watson) to restock his next-door neighbours' freezer with a whole Scottish salmon.

Doon Mackichan stars in Two Doors Down, Friday, BBC2, 10pm

BEST OF THE REST

Eddie Izzard: Marathon Man for Sport Relief BBC2, 9.40pm

In 2009, comedian Eddie Izzard completed 43 marathons in 51 days across the UK, eventually raising over £1.8million. Then, in 2012, he planned to complete a staggering 27 marathons in 27 days across South Africa to reflect the 27 years that Nelson Mandela spent in prison. Sadly, he had to pull out for health reasons. Undeterred, Izzard returned to complete the challenge this year for Sport Relief, running over 700 miles in temperatures of up to 30 degrees Celsius. This documentary covers Eddie's journey, in which he also explored the history of South Africa and Mandela as well as visiting communities, organisations and families that have all been helped by the work of Comic Relief.

TUESDAY

Live International Football ITV, 7.30pm

England v Netherlands. Mark Pougatch presents the best of the action from the friendly match at Wembley Stadium, as Roy Hodgson's side continued their preparations for Euro 2016. Surprisingly, the Dutch will not be involved in this summer's tournament in France, having finished a very disappointing fourth in their qualification group, below Czech Republic, Iceland and Turkey, which was not even enough to merit a play-off place.

Bake Off: Creme de la Creme BBC2, 8pm

We've had junior and celebrity versions of The Great British Bake Off, and now it's time for another spin-off – and this one is giving the professionals a chance to show what they can do. Presented by Michelin-starred chef Tom Kerridge, it sets out to find Britain's best team of pastry chefs, whether they come from top hotels or the armed forces. They'll all be making stunning patisserie and desserts in the hopes of impressing the judges Benoit Blin, chef patissier at Belmond Le Manoir aux Quat'Saisons, Claire Clark MBE, world-renowned pastry chef and consultant, and Cherish Finden, executive pastry chef at The Langham, London. In the first edition, three teams have to make over 100 perfect miniature pastries, before reinventing the humble apple crumble as a five-star dessert.

Bake Off: Creme de la Creme, Tuesday, BBC2, 8pm

WEDNESDAY

Horizon BBC2, 8pm

Examining Dark Energy, the mysterious force that is unexpectedly causing the universe's expansion to speed up. Its effects were discovered in 1998, but physicists still do not know what it is, and its very existence calls into question Albert Einstein's General Theory of Relativity; the cornerstone of modern physics. The hunt for the identity of Dark Energy is on, and although experiments conducted on earth and in space generate data that might provide a clue, physics is hoping another Einstein might emerge and write a new theory that explains the mystery.

THURSDAY

Medical Mysteries: The Extraordinary Swollen Woman & Other Medical Mysteries Channel 5, 8pm

Another batch of puzzling health issues are heading our way this week, so if you're in the slightest bit squeamish, look away now. Pregnant women expect to get bigger in a certain area during their nine-month term, but 33-year-old Izzy is suffering from bizarre swellings all over her body and face – but has no idea why. However, a new GP may be able to unlock the mystery of her condition. Also hoping for a miracle cure is Beth who, for the past two years, has been struggling to leave her home due to extreme dizziness. Now she hopes a trip to see specialists in the US will help her. Finally, 11-year-old James suffers severe reactions whenever he steps outside – but can a cure be found for his allergy to sunlight?

FRIDAY

Billy Connolly's Tracks Across America ITV, 9pm

Pack up your belongings in a spotted handkerchief and grab your harmonica – we're ridin' the rails with Billy Connolly. For his latest travelogue, the comedian is travelling across the USA by train, from Chicago to New York, taking in 26 states, 6,000 miles and some parts of America that UK viewers rarely see on screen. Billy will even be providing his own soundtrack, courtesy of his banjo. In the first episode, he makes a stop at the Minnesota State Fair, where the attractions include corn beauty pageants and live animal births.

We're on the road (works) to hell

The more obvious type of roadworks, such as resurfacing and replacing lane markings, can be planned in advance. This is where the different agencies come together to dovetail as much work as possible to minimise disruption to drivers.

With this type of work, a lot will happen at night, again to lessen the disruption to drivers. The sort of work often achieved at night includes resurfacing the road, repairing safety barriers, and erecting or replacing road signs. Other work will be clearing drains and picking up litter.

So, next time you're held up in roadworks, have a little sympathy for the workers and road planners.

Astra Sports Tourer now in showrooms

The new Astra Sports Tourer is now on sale priced from £16,585 on-the-road, with first cars arriving in Vauxhall showrooms this March after its global debut at the 2015 Frankfurt Motor Show.

One of the UK's top-selling and best-loved cars, Astra is a household name for British car buyers with almost three million sold in the UK over the last 36 years, including 50,000 in the last 12 months. More than 25 per cent of British motorists have either owned or driven an Astra, so reaction to a new model will always be felt across the market.

The Astra Sports Tourer is based on an all-new lightweight vehicle architecture with a new design, powertrains and technology. It is built at Vauxhall's Ellesmere Port plant in Cheshire. It is the only plant to build this body style.

The Sports Tourer has proved a popular car in the UK market, with sales making it the third most popular estate car sold in 2015 with key rivals including the Ford Focus Estate and the Volkswagen Golf Estate. With a fleet/retail sales split of 80:20, it holds great appeal as a company car, taking drivers from their daily commute to weekend activities. The Sports Tourer will also appeal to private buyers who are looking for a practical family car.

Vauxhall's all-new Astra and Astra Sports Tourer have secured 2,000 jobs at the Ellesmere Port manufacturing plant in Cheshire after workers won a long-term contract and a £140 million investment from GM.

UK firms, including those in manufacturing, utilities, construction, transportation and storage, benefit from approaching £70 million gross value added that results directly from Vauxhall's investment in Ellesmere Port (source: Centre for Economics and Business Research).

And this great British success story doesn't end there. The Astra range was designed by a team led by Brits Mark Adams and Malcom Ward. In his role as Vauxhall/Opel's design director, Ward follows in the footsteps of both his father and grandfather who both worked at Vauxhall.

Also looking forward to a bright future is Vauxhall's other UK manufacturing plant, Britain's leading commercial vehicle plant, located in Luton, where the Vivaro van is produced. Workers in Luton won a similar long term contract to their colleagues at Ellesmere Port. Their agreement runs for 10 years after a £125 million investment that secured 1,500 jobs.

The latest generation Sports Tourer has almost the same dimensions as the outgoing model. While the driver can enjoy 26 millimetres of additional headroom, passengers in the rear have 28 millimetres more legroom. The new Astra Sports Tourer can take up to three child seats in the rear and can also carry up to 1,630 litres of luggage thanks to the efficient packaging.

Inside, gracefully sculpted shapes are combined with premium materials and functional clarity. Switches and controls are reduced to an absolute minimum, supporting the efficiency and ease of use that is at the core of the Astra. The centrepiece of the new Astra's interior is the award-winning IntelliLink system. The location of the system was carefully selected to ensure both an ideal view of the display as well as easy reach and use.

Lightweight

The Sports Tourer is based on an all-new lightweight architecture. Its body is more lithe and aerodynamic and is also driven by powerful, weight-optimised engines. The new Astra Sports Tourer is up to 190kg lighter than its predecessor. It is the most aerodynamically efficient estate car built by Vauxhall with a co-efficient drag-value of 0.272 making it as streamlined as the five-door variant.

The bodyshell and structure alone are around 85kg lighter. High-strength and ultra-high-strength lightweight steels, more compact subframes as well as modification to the front and rear suspension all contributed to this result. Further size and mass-optimisation measures include shorter front and rear overhangs, an exhaust system that is up to 25 per cent lighter and smaller wheels and tyres that weigh up to 11.5kg less. The brake system has less mass to decelerate, making a more compact design possible (weighing 10kg less) while delivering even better braking performance.

Another plus on the efficiency side is the latest-generation Vauxhall engines. They distinguish themselves with their compact and ultra-efficient design: for instance, the new 1.4 ECOTEC Direct Injection Turbo engine now weighs less. Its aluminium engine block alone is 10kg lighter than the cast-iron block of its predecessor.

Reduced weight also leads to noticeably higher agility while saving fuel and CO2 emissions. The Sports Tourer with the 1.0-litre Turbo and Easytronic 3.0 combination is an economical and clean high-tech petrol engine. The engine portfolio has helped boost efficiency with outputs ranging from 110PS to 200PS and fuel consumption and combined CO2 emissions of up to 83.1mpg and 89g/km respectively.

For the first time on a Vauxhall, the tailgate can be opened without a touch or a remote control. In order to improve loading space the Sports Tourer Elite model comes with 40/20/40 foldable rear seats enabling even more flexible loading space configurations. The FlexOrganiser product range with side rails, dividing nets and various fastening options is available as an option so that all loaded materials can be stored safely and tidily.

With the Levante a new wind is blowing through the SUV segment, guaranteeing the passion, the flair and the exclusivity that have distinguished all Maserati models for over a century. Made in Italy and designed in the Maserati studio at the FCA "Centro Stile" of Turin, its design defines a new style in the SUV world, combining coupé lines with impressive interior space.

The Maserati Levante marks a turning point in Maserati's history. The brand new model, which made its world premiere at the 2016 Geneva Motor Show, enables the Trident to access the largest luxury segment in the world. The Levante significantly contributes to the creation of the most complete product line-up in Maserati's history.

The name Levante was inspired by a warm, Mediterranean wind that can change from mild to gale force in an instant, mirroring the character of the first Maserati SUV. It's based on the evolution of the saloon platform, designed exclusively by Maserati. The chassis has been specifically developed to offer unique on-road drivability and competitive off-road capability, with day-to-day comfort and practicality. The premium Italian SUV was conceived around three main pillars: Design, Exclusivity and Performance. It represents the optimum blend of these three elements in the SUV world.

The Levante's design is distinctive and attractive, embracing the aesthetic elements of Italian style. The design brings a new concept to the SUV world, combining spaciousness and coupé lines while achieving the best aerodynamic efficiency in its segment with a Cx coefficient of just 0.31.

Its exclusivity stems from technical features like Air Suspension and the Q4 AWD system, which come as standard equipment, and the high level of customisation that includes two cutting-edge packages, Sport and Luxury. The result is a driving experience that is as unique as the Maserati brand and its customers.

Agility

The Maserati Levante delivers unparalleled agility in the luxury SUV class. The thoroughbred on-road handling typical of all Maserati cars and the solid off-road capabilities, as demanded in the SUV segment, describe the car's overall ethos. The Levante is here to excite any sports car driver counting on performance-oriented features, such as the extensive use of lightweight materials, ideal 50-50 per cent weight distribution and it's lowest in class centre of gravity.

The aluminium "double wishbone - five link" suspension layout is comprised of standard Air Springs and electronically controlled Skyhook shock absorbers. In conjunction with the intelligent Q4 All-Wheel-Drive system and the newly introduced Torque Vectoring system which deliver GT on-road behaviour and surprising - for a Maserati - off-road capabilities: the Levante is designed to deliver best in class comfort on rough roads and handling on snow and ice. The off-road equipment completes a product made to surprise avid travellers and adventure lovers as well.

Engine-wise, the Levante is equipped with the latest evolution of the Maserati 3-litre V6 engines. The two versions of the twin-turbo petrol engine and the economical turbodiesel are globally acclaimed for their unique Maserati signature sound and for their exceptional performance.

The petrol Maserati V6 engine with latest GDI and twin-turbo is available in two versions: the top of the range 430 hp and the exciting 350 hp. The most powerful Levante makes it to 100 km/h in 5.2 seconds and has a top speed of 264 km/h, while the figures for the 350 hp version are 6.0 seconds and 251 km/h respectively.

The Levante is also available with a common-rail, direct injection turbodiesel V6 with reduced dwell time injectors. The 3-litre engine is capable of 275 hp and delivers 0-100 km/h in 6.9 seconds and a 230 km/h maximum speed while keeping the fuel economy as low as 7.2 litres/100 km under the New European Driving Cycle (NEDC).

Both petrol and diesel versions of the Maserati Levante use the eight-speed automatic ZF gearbox that provides seamless comfort and fast gear shifting, depending on the selected drive mode. The Levante driver can choose between four drive modes, "Normal", "I.C.E.", "Sport" and "Off-road". Each one constitutes distinct characteristics intelligently altering engine, transmission, suspension and electronics features.

Maserati's more than 100-year tradition of craftsmanship and cutting-edge technology guarantees outstanding quality right down to the tiniest of details. The five-metre long Levante is the longest car in its segment and its three-metre wheelbase is 6-10 cm longer than that of its major competitors.

As a result, the car is one of the roomiest in its class and also boasts the sportiest and most elegant design in the luxury SUV segment.

Prices and spec for Volvo S90 and V90

By James Parker

The new Volvo S90 and V90 are now available to order in the UK, with on-the-road prices starting at £32,555 for the S90 saloon and £34,555 for the V90 estate.

The S90 and V90 are the latest models to be built on Volvo's all-new Scalable Product Architecture (SPA) platform and benefit from Volvo's ground-breaking Drive-E powertrains. Like the XC90 before them, they feature the new face of Volvo, including the T-shaped LED headlights that make them instantly recognisable.

Both models will initially be available with a choice of two 2.0-litre, four-cylinder diesel engines – the tax-efficient D4 and the powerful and refined D5 PowerPulse – and in two trim levels, Momentum and Inscription.

The front-wheel-drive 190 hp D4 comes with an eight-speed automatic gearbox, and offers combined fuel consumption of 64.2 mpg and CO2 emissions of just 116 g/km in the S90. In the V90, these figures are 62.8 mpg and 119 g/km.

Responsiveness

The 235 hp D5 utilises an innovative technology called PowerPulse to boost responsiveness. This uses compressed air, which is stored in a tank in the engine bay and refilled automatically, to spool up the turbo at low revs. This helps to overcome turbo lag, which is the short delay in the power delivery you experience in traditional turbo-charged engines.

To harness the engine's power, the D5 PowerPulse comes with all-wheel drive. An eight-speed automatic gearbox is also standard.

Every version of the S90 and V90 is luxuriously equipped. As standard, even entry-level Momentum cars come with leather upholstery, LED headlights with active high beam, two-zone climate control with 'CleanZone' air-filtration system, keyless engine starting and heated front seats.

Volvo's Sensus infotainment system is also standard. This brings a 9" touch screen, satellite navigation (including lifetime annual map updates), a sophisticated voice-control system, and access to the internet and a range of cloud-based apps such as TuneIn, Stitcher and Yelp.

The S90 gets a powered bootlid, too, while the V90 benefits from a powered tailgate.

Pilot Assist, Volvo's innovative semi-autonomous drive feature, is standard on every S90 and V90. It automatically keeps you at a set speed or distance from the vehicle in front, braking and accelerating with the flow of traffic, and gives gentle steering inputs to keep the car within lane markings at motorway speeds up to 80 mph. Unlike previous versions of the system, it no longer needs to follow another car. Pilot Assist is another step towards fully autonomous driving.

Detection

The latest version of City Safety is also fitted to every S90 and V90. This includes automatic emergency braking with pedestrian and cyclist detection, and the world-first application of large-animal detection.

This feature helps to avoid or limit the severity of collisions with large animals such as deer or horses both at night and during the day.

Moving up to Inscription adds Nappa soft leather upholstery, powered front seats, a 12.3" active TFT driver's information display (Momentum cars get an 8" version), 18" diamond-cut/silver alloy wheels, keyless entry and handsfree boot/tailgate opening and closing.

Additional premium touches include walnut interior inlays, rear footwell and side step illumination, and chrome exterior details.

The optional Xenium package is available across the range and adds a powered tilt and slide glass sunroof (panoramic in the V90), a parking camera system with 360o surround view, and Park Assist Pilot, which includes automatic parallel and 90o parking.

Apple CarPlay is another option and allows you to access certain functions of your Apple device and CarPlay-optimised apps directly via the car's touch screen, voice control system or the buttons on the steering wheel. Also available is the exceptional Bowers and Wilkins premium sound system, which offers no less than 18 speakers and an output of 1,400W.

Internet of cars

There is much hype about how cars are becoming more connected to the internet and smartphones, but this is not the only future for the car.

Almost every car maker now talks about how connected their cars are, how easily they can pair with your smartphone and offer instant access to the internet and all of the functions on your phone. Handy as all this is, there is also a future where the car is not simply a glorified mobile phone carrier.

A future of connected cars has many upsides, as cars will be able to communicate their position to other vehicles and allow for some, or total, autonomous driving. This should help reduce collision rates and bring down serious injury and fatality numbers on our roads. There is also a future of instant traffic information, navigation and even the car checking itself in for a service having already told the garage what needs attention.

All of this is good progress, yet a connected car future is not all sweetness and light as there are consequences of allowing our vehicles to communicate with the world outside its windows.

For starters, there are already concerns about the security of vehicles that have an internet connection.

There have been a small number of instances where connected cars have been 'hacked' so the driver does not have control of the vehicle. The outcome of this scenario is a car could be maliciously controlled with the driver in it or unlocked, started and stolen without the need for a key.

It's estimated that 89,000 cars in London in 2013 were stolen using electronic hacking, so this is a problem already afflicting car owners.

Another downside of cars becoming more connected and being able to book themselves in for a service without you having to lift a phone or tap a keyboard, is cost. A car with more technology fitted is going to cost more than one without, so the price you pay up front to buy or lease a car will be greater.

More costs will come in replacing any component that is connected to the car's onboard monitoring, as every part will require a sensor. Add complexity to a component and it rises in price to manufacture and fit a replacement. In a worst-case scenario, cars could fail MoT tests or even be scrapped because a sensor has failed and it's too expensive to replace even if the car otherwise drives perfectly well.

Connected cars also open up a debate about privacy and civil liberty. If a car is connected to the internet, it can easily be monitored for position and speed. This could mean any driver parking illegally or breaking the speed limit by even the slimmest margin could be automatically fined.

Insurance companies might also impose stricter usage conditions that can then be monitored 24-hours a day, which could be good news for those seeking to lower their premiums. However, how much information will be shared with insurance companies, council parking attendants and the police?

Car companies and governments are working to establish these guidelines, but don't expect the car to become little more than a big mobile phone too soon.

We'll give you up to £2,000* scrappage for your old car to put towards a brand new Vauxhall, on top of all our other great offers.

This offer is available across the range^.

Big-hitting from Titans during training

Big-hitting baseball Titans pitching in for a brighter future

STOURBRIDGE Titans baseball club are looking to build on their success story by catching the next generation of stars.

The Titans have made impressive progress since realising their dream to form a club five years ago. They now compete in the British Baseball Federation AA Central Division.

Shaun Healy, Corey Millard and Samantha Smith were the founder members who got the ball rolling in 2011. And after a testing couple of seasons the Titans have excelled on the field, winning the league title in 2014 and finishing runners-up last year.

They now boast a senior squad of up to 25 players and are looking to the future as baseball grows in popularity this side of the Atlantic.

"The founders of the club were Shaun, Corey, Samantha," said secretary Stuart Walton, who traded bowling off-spin for Coseley Cricket Club for a shot at pitching with the Titans.

Diamond

"They all played at the start and Shaun and Corey still do now.

They used to play for Birmingham Bandits, but they were travelling a long way because they lived in Stourbridge. So they said 'right, we want to start a new club of our own'. And so they started the club at Thorns Community College which is where we are based.

"We had one of the old playing fields and we built everything ourselves, an 18ft high backstop, the diamond, everything. It was the whole Field of Dreams - if you build it they will come. Then it was a question of recruiting players. I think it was one of the first to join up.

By Nick Elwell

"We had one of the old playing fields and we built everything ourselves. It was the whole Field of Dreams - if you build it they will come."

"I used to play cricket and I had an interest in baseball. But I was never going to get any further at cricket and I got more of a buzz from playing a new sport.

"I was enjoying the fact that it was something new and that I was learning new things."

Walton is now keen for other people to enjoy that buzz, especially youngsters keen to try a new sport and chase a possible Olympic dream.

"One of the things we are really trying to do is develop a youth team," he said.

"We started Junior Titans towards the end of last year to try to get more kids involved in the game from around our area.

"We were focused on getting the field ready and building the senior team and our next focus is getting the youth team together. We need to keep the club alive.

"Baseball is going to be seriously considered for the 2020 Olympics. That won't be decided until this August, but it looks very likely. The Olympics are in Japan and it's Japan's national sport. In four years time you could actually be an Olympian and playing for the GB team."

No prior knowledge of baseball is required to play the sport with Titans well-stocked with coaches and kit to help newcomers learn the ropes.

"We have one guy who is from America who played at high school when he was in America but everyone else started from scratch," Walton said. "One of the big things we need to do is to raise awareness. Most people don't even realise baseball is played in this country, never mind that there is a side in Stourbridge," he added.

Titans compete in the third tier of the British Baseball Federation set up with the new season starting in April.

Birmingham Bandits, Long Eaton Storm, Nottingham Rebels, Leicester Blue Sox and Milton Keynes Bucks are their league rivals with matches played on Sundays on a double-header basis.

Travelling

"We play double-headers over seven innings to cut down on the travelling," added Walton.

"If you get out, then another eight batters later you are in again. Your day is not ruined if you get out first ball.

"In cricket you can get out first ball and end up paying six quid for your tea to field for 50 overs. In baseball, if you get out it's not that big a deal because you get to bat again."

Anyone interested in joining the Titans, or going along for a taster session, should contact Stuart Walton on 07854 353335.

Training is on Sunday mornings during the winter at Thorns Community Centre, from 11.30am-1.30pm, and on Tuesdays from 6.30pm at the same venue during the season.

Lions roar back up the league table

Cannock RUFC 34 Edwardians 15
AFTER a tough couple of away fixtures, Cannock had slipped a place in the table so were looking to put things right against Edwardians.

The first encounters were a tight affair, but Edwardians took the lead after their impressive 12 ran through some lacklustre tackles.

It became evident that Edwardians didn't fancy in your face rugby but Cannock didn't demonstrate this enough in the first half. Jordan Pincombe cut the deficit with a neatly struck penalty, but Edwardians struck again with a converted try.

The Cannock pack started to assert dominance and the gap was reduced when Josh Humphries powered through.

Frustratingly from the kick off a penalty was awarded to Edwardians for Cannock D going off their feet. This was duly taken.

Scores were level when the front row of Scott Lathe, John Shirley and Dave Gunter made light work of another front row and duly steered the scrum for another tap down for skipper Jon Freeman.

Lions now had complete ascendancy and Gareth Ley finished off a great move showing great strength to brush off two attempted tackles.

Scott Pedley in a new look formation started at 13. He utilised the back three well and had good in play kicking skills with more space. He gained 40 metres with one of these kicks and Cannock kept play in Edwardians territory. A penalty was awarded and the quick-thinking Frost Smashed through off a quick tap.

More pressure and another penalty followed. Cannock opted for the line. With the maul being brought down, man of the match Brookes powered over to score the last try of the game.

The 2nds travelled to Willenhall and prevailed with a 7-17 victory.

Scholars denied as Chris Martin on song

Shelley's superb free-kick gives Leek a draw

CHRIS Martin made a string of fine saves to deny Chasetown in this Staffordshire derby featuring two teams chasing an Evo-Stik First Division South play-off place.

Leek took an early lead when the ball was cleared straight at Tim Grice and he took advantage of his luck to net from close range.

Chasetown responded quickly, but found Martin in inspired form to deny Jed Davies and Simon Brown among others, while George Washbourne struck the base of the post with a left-footed effort from the edge of the box.

Chasetown's persistence paid off and the long-deserved equaliser came in the 65th minute. Paul Sullivan retreated into midfield and slid the ball through to Nicholas Turton, who picked his spot and drove the ball low past Martin.

Chasetown 2 Leek Town 2

The Scholars took the lead when Kev Hemagou set up fellow substitute Stan Mugisha, but Leek levelled seven minutes from time when Dan Shelley curled a superb free-kick beyond John Bateman.

The Scholars travel to Market Drayton Town this weekend, kick off at 3pm.

MAD! HATTERS GRAB LATE WIN

Hednesford Town 1 Stockport County 2

HEDNESFORD Town hearts were broken in the most cruel of circumstances after a crazy ending saw the Hatters score twice in stoppage time.

Frank Sinclair's team selection had been disrupted by the continued absence of Tom Thorley but also by football's governing body FIFA, who had not granted international clearance for Jonathan Royle - their new recruit from Wrexham - to play, even though the player had been correctly registered with the National League last Monday.

Back in the starting line-up, however, was Francino Francis. Sinclair moved to bring back the popular defender to Keys Park following a stint at Chasetown. During his first spell, Francis played more than 100 games and was part of the 2013 treble-winning side.

Chance

Stockport were the first to threaten in the fourth minute when Richard Brodie fired wide, before John Marsden saw his shot saved by Dan Crane five minutes later.

The visitors had another half chance in the 14th minute when Wade Joyce shot wide from the edge of the box before the home side forced their first chance nine minutes later as Ben Bailey's header was saved.

Hednesford's Tom Peers then had an effort on the turn midway through the half and Dan Crane saved low down from Brodie in the 37th minute. The second half got under way with substitute Danny Glover coming on for Kennedy Digie and in the 48th minute a break by Glover resulted in a firm shot well saved by Ian Ormson in the Stockport goal. Five minutes later, Shelton Payne also went close with a spectacular curling effort, but was once again denied by Ormson.

The game was starting to open up and a free-kick by Tom Field from 20 yards was brilliantly turned round the post by Crane.

Finally, in the 72nd minute, came the moment that every Pitmen supporter had been waiting for. A free-kick by Glover from the edge of the box was hit with venom and could only be parried by the keeper and then scrambled away for a corner. As the ball came over, Bailey rose above everyone and his powerful header went into the top corner.

Ben Bailey celebrates after giving Hednesford the lead against Stockport

Stockport immediately made a double change but it was Hednesford who still looked threatening on the break with both Peers and Payne going close.

But as the four minutes of added time ticked away, Hednesford cruelly had the points snatched from them.

A free-kick lofted into the Hednesford penalty area was headed against the post by Kayode Ode-jayi and substitute Obi Anorou hooked the rebound into the net.

The Pitmen lost possession at the restart and as the ball was hit long to Odejayi he took full advantage of a moment of hesitation in the Hednesford defence to lift the ball over the advancing Crane into the net and leave everyone in a state of disbelief.

The Pitmen were in action last night (Wednesday) in their rearranged Staffs Senior Cup semi-final at Kidsgrove.

They travel to Corby on Saturday, but are back at Keys Park on Easter Monday with Worcester City the visitors, kick off at 3pm.

Second cup goes way of Penkridge

Penkridge 3 Redgate Clayton Res 1 - Staffordshire FA Challenge Cup Final PENKRIDGE made it two cup wins in eight days in this Staffs FA Challenge Cup Final played at Brocton FC in front of more than 200 people.

Goals came courtesy of Jack Lees, Frankie Wynn and an own goal against a team flying high in the division above.

On paper this looked a tough task for Penkridge, facing a team fighting for the title in SCSL Division 1 and with a first team at the top end of the SCSL Premier. But in this incredible season Penkridge have already beaten teams from both divisions in two different cup competitions.

The game started at frenetic pace and after just three minutes Jack Lees opened the scoring with his 39th goal of the season. James Mallaband headed past his own keeper to level but an own goal at the other restored the Penkridge advantage.

The third and decisive Penkridge goal came from Wynn on 67 minutes.

Whittington 0 Penkridge 1 - SCSL Division Two South

PENKRIDGE made it eight wins in eight league games thanks to a goal by substitute Frankie Wynn, but were pushed all the way by a young Whittington side helped by a superb goalkeeping performance.

Having seen all their main title rivals all pick up maximum points at this ground, Penkridge knew they could not afford to drop points if they wanted to stay in contention and they managed to grind out an 'ugly' win an awful pitch.

Young keeper Chad Hatton thwarted Wynn, John Hodnett and Jack Lees twice, before then preventing Tom Ransford from giving Penkridge the lead. They finally got the breakthrough as Wynn nodded past the keeper.

In-form Dunkley is Hayes match-winner

Pershore Town 0 Heath Hayes 1

IN an entertaining Midland League game in which a strong wind and a rock hard pitch made conditions difficult Heath Hayes continued their good run against a Pershore side who had not been beaten in their previous six games.

In-form striker Dimitri Dunkley broke the deadlock on 16 minutes with a fine volley from 22 yards.

Pershore looked threatening on the break but Hayes keeper Mark Wiggin never had a serious save to make.

Days earlier, Hayes beat Cadbury Athletic 3-0 thanks to goals from Dunkley, Joe Pickering and Ryan Burns.
